Tips On How To Use The Scholarship File

When you first look at this scholarship file you will probably be overwhelmed at the sheer magnitude of the file. I have spent several years putting this file together. As I have traveled the country recruiting, I have looked everywhere for scholarships...high school bulletin boards, college websites, internet college scholarship search engines, etc. And there are still hundreds of scholarships out there that are not included in this file.

I have also been asked on numerous occasions if I had access to any graduate scholarships. Until this year I have not included any graduate scholarships in my file because most of my work has been done with high school students. However, because I have been asked so many times about graduate scholarships, I have decided to include them in this file. They are mixed in with the undergraduate scholarships by category throughout the pages of this file. I have also included grants, research grants, fellowships, doctoral, and post-doctoral information on scholarships as well. Some of the scholarships appear multiple times in different categories because they fit each category and it is easier to search for the scholarships that meet your needs. In addition, I have included several lists of paid and unpaid internships for high school and college students (mostly summer internships). This makes for a great resource while students are not only getting ready for college but also while they are in college and doing graduate work!

Here are some tips for searching for scholarships.

1. Start your search in your own backyard.
Don't go for the big scholarships that most of the time turn out to be a waste of time (Example: Coca-Cola Scholarship, $100,000 – receives more than 100,000 applicants every year). Look for scholarships from your parents' employers, local civic groups, clubs, businesses, churches, and organizations in your community first. Don't worry if they are small! The small ones add up!
2. Use your high school guidance counselor as a resource. If you are already in college, make an appointment with your college financial aid office. They will be more than happy to give you ideas about where to find scholarships and grants.
3. Those extracurricular activities you're involved in during your high school years can turn out to be a great resource for scholarships. There may be scholarships sponsored by the organizations with which you are involved.
4. There is no magic number of scholarships for which to apply. Don't spend time crafting the perfect application and apply for only two scholarships. And don't apply for hundreds of scholarships sending in the same application for each one. Strike a balance between quantity and quality.
5. Keep a file on each scholarship you apply for and make sure you don't miss the deadlines! On the outside of each folder write the deadline for applying in bold.
6. Beware of scholarship scams!

U.S. National Science Foundation \(NSF\) — Find Funding

Minority Postdoctoral Research Fellowships in the Social, Behavioral and Economic Sciences - \$45,000

Oct 26 The Directorate for Social, Behavioral and Economic Sciences (SBE) offers Minority Postdoctoral Research Fellowships and Research Starter Grants in an effort to increase the diversity of researchers who participate in NSF programs in the social, behavioral and economic sciences and thereby increase the participation of scientists from underrepresented groups in selected areas of science in the United States.

Postdoctoral Research Fellowships in Biology \(PRFB\) — \$69,000+

Nov 3 The Directorate for Biological Sciences (BIO) awards Postdoctoral Research Fellowships in Biology to recent recipients of the doctoral degree for research and training in selected areas supported by BIO and with special goals for human resource development in biology. The fellowships encourage independence at an early stage of the research career to permit Fellows to pursue their research and training goals in the most appropriate research locations regardless of the availability of funding for the Fellows at that site. For FY 2015 and beyond, these BIO programs are (1) Broadening Participation of Groups Under-represented in Biology, (2) Research Using Biological Collections, and (3) National Plant Genome Initiative (NPGI) Postdoctoral Research Fellowships.

Ocean Sciences Postdoctoral Research Fellowships \(OCE-PRF\): Broadening Participation — \$87,000+

Dec 8 The Division of Ocean Sciences (OCE) offers postdoctoral research fellowships to provide opportunities for scientists early in their careers to work within and across traditional disciplinary lines, develop partnerships, and avail themselves of unique resources, sites and facilities. The fellowship program is intended to recognize beginning investigators of significant potential, and provide them with experience that will establish them in positions of leadership in the scientific community. During tenure, fellows will affiliate with an appropriate research institution(s) and conduct research on topics supported by OCE. The OCE fellowship program has two tracks: 1) Track 1 (Broadening Participation) and 2) Track 2 (International).

ASEE/NSF Small Business Postdoctoral Research Diversity Fellowships — \$75,000+

This fellowship program offers active Phase II Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) participating companies the opportunity to attract top scientific and technological talent at a fraction of the usual cost. At the same time, the program recruits postdoctoral fellows from underrepresented groups to work for at least a year outside an academic setting, contributing to cutting-edge research aimed at promoting scientific excellence and strengthening our nation's technological prowess.

Harvard University

Harvard Financial Aid Initiative — Potentially worth over \$60,000/year.

Nov 1 Admission to Harvard is based on achievement and promise without regard to financial need; the financial paperwork is handled separately, and applying for financial aid does not jeopardize a student's chances for admission. The application fee normally associated with admissions can also be waived. Harvard College does not award merit nor athletic scholarships. All scholarships are based on demonstrated financial need. Ninety percent of American families would pay the same or less to send their children to Harvard as they would a state school.

Administrative Fellowships

13 Native, Asian Pacific Islander American, and Hispanic American students with an opportunity to complete an undergraduate college education in any discipline area of interest. Continuing Gates Millennium Scholars may request funding for a graduate degree program in one of the following discipline areas: computer science, education, engineering, library science, mathematics, public health or science.

American Indian Graduate Center

Graduate Fellowships and College Scholarships

American Indian Science and Engineering Society (AISES) — Scholarships

Internships

The AISES Internship Program provides students with applied work experience and an opportunity to explore career options. Placing students in 10-week summer positions with partner agencies, the program also promotes advanced study to the graduate level and assists students in developing professional networks.

American Philosophical Society — Fellowships and Grants

Phillips Fund Grants for Native American Research

Scholarships for Native Americans and Alaska Natives in Fields Related to Health Care or Tribal Policy

Native Visions

College Scholarships for Native Americans

Royal Bank Financial Group

College Scholarships for Aboriginal Canadian Students in Disciplines Relevant to the Banking Industry (e.g., Business, Economics, Computer Science)

Smithsonian Institution — Fellowship and Internship Opportunities

Native American Visiting Student Awards

Appointments are available for currently enrolled advanced Native American graduate students who are formally or informally related to a Native American community. Visiting Students pursue independent research in association with Smithsonian staff.

National Museum of the American Indian Internships

The Internship Program provides educational opportunities for students interested in the museum profession and related fields. Interns complete projects using the resources of the National Museum of the American Indian (NMAI) and other Smithsonian offices.

Society for American Archaeology

Scholarships for Archaeological Training for Native Americans and Native Hawaiians

U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

American Indian Science and Engineering Society (AISES) Internship Program

U.S. Indian Health Service

Health Professions Preparatory Scholarships, Including Pre-Engineering, Pre-Medicine, Pre-Dentistry, Civil and Environmental Engineering

U.S. National Highway Institute — Technology Partnership Programs

Eisenhower Transportation Graduate Fellowships

The Dwight David Eisenhower Transportation Fellowship Program (DDETFP) awards fellowships to students pursuing degrees in transportation-related disciplines. This program advances the transportation workforce by attracting the brightest minds to the field through education, research, and workforce development. The DDETFP encompasses all modes of transportation.

International Society of Explosives Engineers — Education Scholarship Funds

College and Graduate Scholarships in Explosives Related Fields

- May 30 Monies are awarded to qualified students who are pursuing technical undergraduate, graduate or doctorate degrees in fields of education related to the commercial explosives industry.

Linux Foundation — Free Linux Training Online

Linux Training Scholarships

- Sep 2 The Linux Foundation's Linux Training Scholarship Program will award scholarships to individuals who demonstrate the greatest need and who have already demonstrated an interest in Linux and open source software. The program seeks to find individuals who want to contribute to the advancement of the Linux operating system and help influence its future.

Semiconductor Research Corporation — Student Center

Graduate Fellowships in Microelectronics

- Sep 27 The GRC Program supports over 1,000 advanced degree students each year on contracts guided by the membership. These students are outstanding academically and have demonstrated research capability in disciplines critical to the semiconductor industry.

IBM

IBM Ph.D. Fellowships

- Oct 28 The IBM Ph.D. Fellowship Awards Program honors exceptional Ph.D. students who have an interest in solving problems that are important to IBM and fundamental to innovation in many academic disciplines and areas of study. These include: computer science and engineering, electrical and mechanical engineering, physical sciences (including chemistry, material sciences, and physics), mathematical sciences (including optimization), business sciences (including financial services, communication, and learning/knowledge), and service science, management, and engineering (SSME).

Herman Goldstine Postdoctoral Fellowship in Mathematical Sciences and Computer Sciences

The Business Analytics and Mathematical Sciences Department of the IBM Thomas J. Watson Research Center invites applications for its Herman Goldstine Memorial Postdoctoral Fellowship for research in the mathematical and computer sciences. The fellowship provides scientists of outstanding ability an opportunity to advance their scholarship as resident department members at the Research Center. The Research Center is located in Westchester County, less than an hour north of New York City.

Graduate Fellowships in Applied Physical, Biological and Engineering Sciences — Up to $37,000

- Oct 31 Eligible applicants for Hertz Fellowships must be students of the applied physical, biological and engineering sciences who are citizens or permanent residents of the United States of America, and who are willing to morally commit to make their skills available to the United States in time of national emergency. College seniors wishing to pursue the Ph.D. degree in any of the fields of particular interest to the Foundation, as well as graduate students already in the process of doing so, may apply.

Associated General Contractors of America Education and Research Foundation — Scholarships Program

Undergraduate Scholarships in Construction or Civil Engineering

- Nov 3 The AGC Foundation offers undergraduate scholarships to students enrolled in ABET or ACCE-accredited construction management or construction related engineering programs.

Graduate Scholarships in Construction or Civil Engineering

- Nov 3 The AGC Foundation offers graduate level scholarships to students enrolled in ABET or ACCE-accredited construction management or construction related engineering programs.

Computing Research Association — Awards

Outstanding Undergraduate Researchers Award

- Nov 3 This award program recognizes undergraduate students in North American colleges and universities who show outstanding research potential in an area of computing research. Eligible nominees are enrolled as undergraduates in a North American college or university throughout the academic year. They must be nominated by two faculty members and recommended by the chair of their home department.

Institute of Industrial Engineers (IIE) — Student Center

College Scholarships and Graduate Fellowships in Industrial Engineering

- Nov 15 IIE's scholarship and fellowship program is in place to recognize undergraduate industrial engineering students for academic excellence and campus leadership. IIE also offers honors and recognition specifically for graduate students, including the Graduate Research Award and the prestigious Pritsker Doctoral Dissertation Award.

American Society of Safety Engineers (ASSE) Foundation — Scholarship Award Program

Undergraduate and Graduate Scholarships in Occupational Safety, Health, and the Environment.

- Dec 1 Graduate awards are for full-time students (enrolled in 9 hours or more per semester) pursuing a graduate degree in occupational safety & health or a closely related field. Those that apply to part-time students (3-8 hours per semester) are noted. U.S. citizenship is not required unless specified.

U.S. Navy — Education and Outreach

U.S. Navy Summer Faculty Research Program and Sabbatical Leave Program

- Dec 6 The Office of Naval Research (ONR) sponsors the Summer Faculty Research Program and the Sabbatical Leave Program for U.S. citizens and legal permanent residents who hold teaching or research appointments at U.S. colleges and universities. These programs provide an opportunity for faculty members to participate in research of mutual interest to the faculty member and professional peers at U.S. Navy Laboratories.

Washington Internships for Students of Engineering (WISE)

Summer Internships for Engineering and Computer Science Students

- Dec 31 Applicants must be juniors, seniors, or entering their final year of undergraduate studies in engineering (or computer science). WISE will also accept applications from engineering grads who are beginning Masters level study in a technology policy-related degree.

Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution (WHOI) — Education

Postdoctoral Fellowships in Ocean Science and Engineering

- Jan 5 The Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution offers several types of postdoctoral awards. A term appointment to the position of Postdoctoral Scholar, Fellow, or Investigator may be offered to an individual who has completed the requirements for a Ph.D. degree.

Facebook — Fellowships

Graduate Fellowships — 37,500+

- Jan 5 The Fellowship Program is open to full-time PhD students (domestic and international) enrolled during the current academic year and studying computer science, computer engineering, electrical engineering, system architecture, or a related area. Architecture, compilers, data mining, databases, distributed systems, computer vision & graphics, human-computer interaction, internet economics, machine learning, natural language processing, networking operating systems, programming languages, security & privacy.

American Water Works Association — Awards & Scholarships

Abel Wolman Fellowships in Water Supply and Treatment

Jan 6 The Abel Wolman Fellowship is designed to support promising doctoral students in the U.S., Canada and Mexico pursuing advanced training and research in the field of water supply and treatment.

Camp Memorial Scholarships in Drinking Water Research

Jan 6 The Thomas R. Camp Scholarship provides support to outstanding graduate students doing applied research in the drinking water field.

Larson Aquatic Research Support in Corrosion Control, Treatment and Distribution of Domestic and Industrial Water Supplies, Aquatic Chemistry, and/or Environmental Chemistry

Jan 6 The Larson Aquatic Research Support scholarship provides support for doctoral and masters students interested in careers in the fields of corrosion control, treatment and distribution of domestic and industrial water supplies, aquatic chemistry, and/or environmental chemistry.

Academic Achievement Dissertation Awards in Public Water Supply

Oct 1 The Academic Achievement Award encourages academic excellence by recognizing contributions to the field of public water supply. All Masters theses and doctoral dissertations that are relevant to the water supply industry are eligible.

American Society for Engineering Education — Fellowship Programs

U.S. Office of Naval Research Postdoctoral Fellowships — Up to \$76,000+

The program is designed to significantly increase the involvement of creative and highly trained scientists and engineers from academia and industry to scientific and technical areas of interest and relevance to the Navy. Fellows are competitively selected on the basis of their overall qualifications and technical proposals addressing specific areas defined by the host Navy laboratories.

U.S. Navy Science and Engineering Apprenticeship Program \(SEAP\) — 3,300 to \$3,800

Jan 7 This program is intended for high school students who have completed at least Grade 9. SEAP is an eight week summer research opportunity at participating ONR laboratories. Applicants must be 16 years of age for most Laboratories and U.S. citizens. A competitive stipend is available. The application cycle is from October to January.

U.S. Army Science and Engineering Apprenticeship Program \(SEAP\) — — \$2,000

Apr SEAP is designed so that students can apprentice in fields of their choice with experienced scientists and engineers.
14 This opportunity provides students with valuable experience needed to make informed career decisions. Students apprentice with their mentors on mutually agreed upon projects. At Army Research facilities, the students apprentice in a professional research laboratory setting and learn how their research can benefit the Army as well as the civilian community.

National Defense Science and Engineering \(NDSEG\) Graduate Fellowships — 30,000+

Dec The NDSEG Fellowship is a highly competitive, portable award for U.S. citizens and nationals in the beginning
12 stages of their overall graduate study who intend to pursue a doctoral degree a science, technology, engineering, and mathematics disciplines. NDSEG confers high honors upon its recipients and allows them to attend any accredited U.S. institution. NDSEG Fellowships last for up to three years (36 consecutive months) and provides full tuition and mandatory fee coverage, a monthly stipend, and a $1,000 per year medical health insurance allowance.

Science, Mathematics & Research for Transformation \(SMART\) Undergraduate and Graduate Scholarships — \$25,000 — \$38,000 per year

Dec An opportunity for students pursuing an undergraduate or graduate degree in Science, Technology, Engineering,
15 and Mathematics (STEM) disciplines to receive a full scholarship and be gainfully employed upon degree completion. Students pursuing degrees related to the following are encouraged to apply: Aeronautical and Astronautical Engineering, Biosciences, Chemical Engineering, Chemistry, Civil Engineering, Cognitive, Neural, and Behavioral Sciences, Computer and Computational Sciences, Electrical Engineering, Geosciences, Industrial and Systems Engineering (technical tracks only), Information Sciences, Materials Science and Engineering, Mathematics, Mechanical Engineering, Naval Architecture and Ocean Engineering , Nuclear Engineering , Oceanography , Operations Research (technical tracks only), Physics.

Naval Research Enterprise Internship Program \(NREIP\) — \$5,400 to \$10,800

- Dec 19 NREIP provides competitive research internships to undergraduate sophomores, juniors & seniors, and graduate students. Participating students typically spend ten weeks during the summer doing research at DoN laboratories. To participate, a student must be enrolled at an accredited 4 year US college or university and have completed their freshman year before beginning the internship.

Gains in the Education of Mathematics and Science \(GEMS\) — U.S. Army

The program is an extracurricular science education program, which enables students to experience science in a real laboratory setting. Students receive a stipend to participate in one week-, two week- and four-week long programs, depending on student grade and program site. Programs offered at different sites are unique.

Krell Institute — Fellowships

U.S. Department of Energy Computational Science Graduate Fellowships \(CSGF\)

- Jan 27 The Department of Energy Computational Science Graduate Fellowship (DOE CSGF) program provides outstanding benefits and opportunities to students pursuing a PhD in scientific or engineering disciplines with an emphasis in high-performance computing.

U.S. Department of Energy National Nuclear Security Administration Stewardship Science Graduate Fellowships \(SSGF\)

- Jan 14 The Department of Energy National Nuclear Security Administration Stewardship Science Graduate Fellowship (SSGF) Program provides opportunities to students pursuing a Ph.D. in areas such as high-energy density physics, low-energy nuclear science, or properties of materials under extreme conditions.

National Air and Space Museum — Research

National Air and Space Museum Research Fellowships

- Jan 15 Interns have a firsthand opportunity to learn about the historic artifacts and archival materials housed in the Museum and to study the scientific and technological advances they represent. To be considered for a summer internship, you must be a high school graduate and be enrolled in a degree-granting undergraduate or graduate program at an accredited college or university.

National Air and Space Museum Summer Internship Program

- Feb 15 Interns have a firsthand opportunity to learn about the historic artifacts and archival materials housed in the Museum and to study the scientific and technological advances they represent. To be considered for a summer internship, you must be a high school graduate and be enrolled in a degree-granting undergraduate or graduate program at an accredited college or university.

Google — Explore Scholarship Opportunities

The Google Anita Borg Memorial Scholarship — \$10,000

- Jan 15 A group of female undergraduate and graduate students all over the world will be chosen from the applicant pool, and scholarships will be awarded based on the strength of each candidate's academic background and demonstrated leadership. Applicants must be a female student entering her senior year of undergraduate study or be enrolled in a graduate program and enrolled in Computer Science or Computer Engineering program, or a closely related technical field.

The Generation Google Scholarship for Current University Students — \$10,000 U.S. or C\$5,000 Canadian dollars

- Jan 15 Applicants must be currently enrolled as an undergraduate or graduate student at a university for the academic year; pursuing a computer science or computer engineering degree, or a degree in a closely related technical field; and be a student from an underrepresented group in computer science (African American, Hispanic, American Indian, or female).

Google Student Veterans of America Scholarship — 10,000

Jan 27 Eligible students must be pursuing a bachelor's or graduate degree in Computer Science, or a closely related field.

University of Minnesota, Charles Babbage Institute

Adelle and Erwin Tomash Graduate Fellowship

Jan 15 The fellowship will be awarded to a graduate student for doctoral dissertation research in the history of computing.

Whitaker International Fellows and Scholars Program — Fellowships and Scholarships

Predocutorial Fellowships and Postdoctoral Scholarships in Bioengineering & Biomedical Engineering

Jan 20 The Whitaker International Fellows and Scholars Program sends emerging leaders in U.S. biomedical engineering (or bioengineering) to undertake a self-designed project that will enhance their own careers within the field in over 25 countries worldwide.

Summer Grants for Current Master's or Ph.D. Students at a U.S. Institution in Bioengineering or Biomedical Engineering

Feb 3 The Summer Grants Program will provide U.S. bioengineers and biomedical engineers funding to pursue a summer (8 weeks) of high-quality research, internship in an industry setting or coursework relevant to their field of focus in biomedical engineering (BME), in an international setting.

SAE International — International Scholarships Program

Engineering Scholarships for High School Seniors — for the Freshman Year in College

Jan 15 SAE International awards scholarships to both undergraduate and graduate engineering students.

Engineering Scholarships Freshmen — for the Sophomore Year in College

Engineering Scholarships Sophomores — for the Junior Year in College

Engineering Scholarships Juniors — for the Senior Year in College

Engineering Scholarships for Graduate and Ph.D. Students

Microsoft — Scholarships

Scholarships in Computer Science, Computer Engineering, or Related Technical Disciplines, with a Demonstrated Interest in Computer Science

Jan 30 Microsoft is offering four different types of technical scholarships to current undergraduate students: General Scholarships, Women's Scholarships, Minority Scholarships, and Scholarships for Students with Disabilities.

Internships

The majority of the interns are PhD students in the field of Computer Science, related technical majors, or social sciences with a technical focus, and a small group of students with a proven research focus who are masters or bachelor's candidates.

Graduate Research Fellowships for Ph.D. Students in North America, Latin America, India, Europe, and China

The fellowship program provides financial support for students and early-career faculty, allowing them to focus on their research.

Microsoft Research Faculty Fellowships

The selected professors explore breakthrough, high-impact research that has the potential to help solve some of today's most challenging societal problems.

National Research Council \(NRC\) — Research Associateship Programs

Postdoctoral Research Associateship Programs for Scientists and Engineers

- Nov 1 Tenable at U.S. Laboratories and NASA Research Centers. The mission of the NRC Research Associateship Programs (RAP) is to promote excellence in scientific and technological research conducted by the U. S. government through the administration of programs offering graduate, postdoctoral, and senior level research opportunities at sponsoring federal laboratories and affiliated institutions.

Tau Beta Pi — The Engineering Honor Society — Awards and Programs

Graduate Fellowships

- Feb 1 The purpose is to finance, for a select group of members chosen for merit and need, a year of graduate study at the colleges of their choice. Tau Beta Pi fellows are free to do graduate work in any field which will enable them to contribute to the engineering profession. The only specific duty of awardees is to write a report at the completion of the fellowship year summarizing their work.

College Scholarships

- Apr 1 Awards for the senior year of engineering study.

College and Graduate School Student Assistance Loans

The resources of Tau Beta Pi's Student Loan Fund are available to members who otherwise would be without sufficient money to remain in college and complete their courses.

International Society for Optical Engineering — SPIE Scholarship Program

Educational Scholarships and Grants in Optical Science and Engineering

- Feb 15 All students studying worldwide in an optics, photonics, imaging, or optoelectronics program or related discipline are eligible to apply.

American Society of Mechanical Engineering — Scholarships and Awards

Graduate Teaching Fellowships in Mechanical Engineering

- Feb 15 The Graduate Teaching Fellowship Program is a collaboration between ASME and mechanical engineering departments to encourage outstanding doctoral candidates in Mechanical (and related) Engineering, particularly women and minorities, to pursue careers in engineering education.

College Scholarships in Mechanical Engineering

- Mar 20 You must be a current undergraduate or graduate ASME Student Member to login to the online application system.

ASME Auxiliary Loans in Mechanical Engineering

These loans are interest free until graduation. Granted throughout the year to junior, senior or graduate students. No deadline for applications.

Auxiliary Scholarships in Mechanical Engineering

The ASME Auxiliary Incorporated provides scholarships and loans to students of mechanical engineering at both the graduate and undergraduate levels and supports the objectives of ASME to promote the advancement of the art, science and practice of mechanical engineering.

Instrumentation, Systems, and Automation Society \(ISA\) — Students

College and Graduate Scholarships in Instrumentation, Systems, and Automation

Feb 15 ISA Educational Foundation Scholarships are awarded to college or university students who demonstrate outstanding potential for long-range contribution to the fields of automation and control.

Society of Women Engineers — SWE Scholarships

Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, Senior, Reentry, and Graduate Scholarships for Women in Engineering and Computer Sciences — 1,000 to $20,000

Feb 16 The SWE Scholarship Program provides financial assistance to women admitted to accredited baccalaureate or graduate programs, in preparation for careers in engineering, engineering technology and computer science.

Mar

Local Scholarships

A number of SWE Sections offer scholarship assistance to female students on a local level. If you reside or attend school within the geographical areas covered by these Sections, you may be eligible for additional scholarship assistance. Contact these Sections directly for detailed information and application forms. Scholarships are listed by state.

U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) — Student Programs

NASA Aeronautics Scholarships

Mar 31 This program awards 20 undergraduate and five graduate scholarships to students in aeronautics or related fields. It is administered through NASA's One-Stop Shopping Initiative (OSSI) for interns, fellows and scholars. At OSSI, students interested in NASA learning experiences can create an account from which to generate applications for multiple opportunities.

NASA Pathways Programs

Open NASA Pathways Programs provide opportunities for students and recent graduates to be considered for Federal employment through NASA Pathways Intern Employment Program (IEP), NASA Pathways Recent Graduates Program (RGP), NASA Pathways Presidential Management Fellows (PMF) Program.

U.S. NASA Summer Faculty Fellowships in Aeronautics and Space Research

Apr 1 The fellowships are awarded to full-time engineering and science educators from U.S. colleges and universities.

National Society of Professional Engineers — Scholarships

High School

Mar 1 Engineering college scholarships for high school seniors who belong to an ethnic minority or for those who participated as a competitor in the MATHCOUNTS program.

Undergraduate

Mar 1 Engineering scholarships for women and college undergraduates.

Graduate

Mar 1 Engineering graduate school scholarships for outstanding students pursuing an MBA, a master's degree in engineering management, a master's degree in public administration, architecture, engineering and law.

American Nuclear Society (ANS) — Honors and Awards

Glenn T. Seaborg Congressional Science and Engineering Fellowship

Mar 1 This Fellowship provides a stipend for the successful candidate to work in a Congressional office (either House or Senate) for a year, providing advice on science and engineering matters to a member of Congress and his or her staff.

Engineering Internships

ANS is a full participant in the Washington Internships for Students of Engineering (WISE) Program, with guaranteed support for two students. ANS-sponsored students must be student members of the Society.

College and Graduate Scholarships in Nuclear Science, Nuclear Engineering and Related Fields

- Apr 1 More than 20 scholarships named after pioneers and leaders in NS&T and other general scholarships are awarded each year to students with outstanding academic credentials. Special scholarships are available to students who have significant economical needs in order to pursue degrees in NS&T. In addition to the scholarships for students entering their sophomore year and higher in college, ANS also provides scholarships to incoming freshmen.

AIST Steel Foundation — Internships and Scholarships

Scholarships and Grants for Students in the Iron and Steel Industry

- Mar 2 AIST Foundation scholarships are awarded on an annual basis to talented and dedicated students to encourage them to pursue careers within iron- and steel-related industries.

David and Lucile Packard Foundation — Conservation and Science

Faculty Fellowships for Science and Engineering

- Mar 14 The Packard Fellowships for Science and Engineering allow the nation's most promising young professors to pursue their science and engineering research with few funding restrictions and limited paperwork requirements.

Society of Plastics Engineers Foundation — Scholarships and Grants

Engineering Scholarships for Undergraduate and Graduate Students Studying for a Career in the Plastics Industry

- Mar 30 The SPE Foundation offers numerous scholarships to students who have demonstrated or expressed an interest in the plastics industry. They must be majoring in or taking courses that would be beneficial to a career in the plastics industry. This would include, but is not limited to, plastics engineering, polymer science, chemistry, physics, chemical engineering, mechanical engineering, and industrial engineering. All applicants must be in good standing with their colleges. Financial need is considered for most scholarships.

American Historical Association — Grants and Fellowships

Fellowships in Aerospace History

- Apr 1 The Fellowship in Aerospace History is offered annually by the the National Aeronautics Space Administration (NASA) and the American Historical Association to support a significant scholarly research project in aerospace history. It will provide a fellow with an opportunity to engage in significant and sustained advanced research in all aspects of the history of aerospace from the earliest human interest in flight to the present, including cultural and intellectual history, economic history, history of law and public policy, and the history of science, engineering, and management. Applicants must possess a PhD in history or in a closely related field, or be enrolled as a student (having completed all coursework) in a doctoral degree-granting program.

Brown and Caldwell — Scholarships

Eckenfelder Scholarship

- Apr 15 Full-time students enrolled in their Junior, Senior year or graduate program at an accredited college/university. Must have a declared major in civil, chemical or environmental engineering or one of the environmental sciences (e.g. biology, geology, hydrogeology, ecology).

Minority Scholarship

- Apr 15 Full-time students enrolled in their Junior, Senior year or graduate program at an accredited college/university. Must have a declared major in civil, chemical or environmental engineering or one of the environmental sciences

(e.g. biology, geology, hydrogeology, ecology). Be a minority (e.g. African American, Hispanic, Asian or Pacific American or Alaska Native).

Society of Petroleum Engineers — Scholarships and Fellowships

Star Scholarships for Undergraduate Study

Apr 15 Each year, the Society of Petroleum Engineers (SPE) awards STAR scholarships and fellowships representing a 1 million dollar commitment to education.

Gus Archie Memorial Scholarship for the Most Outstanding Student

May 1 Each year the SPE Foundation, working through the SPE Section Scholarship Support Program, awards the Archie Scholarship to the most outstanding student attending university for the first time. The curriculum must lead to an undergraduate degree in petroleum engineering.

Henry DeWitt Smith Fellowship

Jun 1 Applicants must be students studying or planning to study petroleum engineering on the Master's or PhD level.

Nico van Wingen Memorial Graduate Fellowships

Nov 1 Eligible students must be members of an official SPE Student Chapter and must be at the Ph.D. level intending to pursue careers in academia.

National Society of Black Engineers — Programs, Competitions & Scholarships

Programs and Scholarships

NSBE and Corporate-sponsored scholarship and award opportunities for pre-college, collegiate undergraduate and graduate student, and technical professional members.

American Society of Civil Engineers

College Scholarships in Civil Engineering

Graduate Fellowships in Civil Engineering

American Society of Naval Engineers (ASNE) — Student Programs

College and Graduate Scholarships in Naval Engineering

Scholarships to undergraduate and graduate students interested in pursuing an education and career in naval engineering.

Armed Forces Communications & Electronics Association (AFCEA) Educational Foundation — Scholarships

College & Graduate Scholarships in Environmental & Geological Engineering

The AEG Foundation is dedicated to advancing research, student and professional education, and public awareness in the field of engineering geology and the related fields of environmental geology and hydrogeology.

Association for Computing Machinery

Awards

ACM recognizes excellence through its eminent series of awards for outstanding technical and professional achievements and contributions in computer science and information technology.

Special Interest Group Awards

ACM's Special Interest Groups (SIGs) regularly cite outstanding individuals for their contributions in more than 30 distinct technological fields.

Astronaut Scholarship Foundation — Scholars

College Scholarships in Science and Engineering

Scholarship nominees must be engineering or natural or applied science (e.g., astronomy, biology, chemistry, physics, earth science, computer science) or mathematics students with intentions to pursue research or advance their field upon completion of their final degrees.

Rubber Division, American Chemical Society — Funding & Awards

Scholarships and Awards in Chemistry, Physics, Chemical Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, Polymer Science or Any Other Technical Discipline of Relevance to the Rubber Industry

There are many scholarships available for those students who wish to pursue a degree in rubber technology, polymer science or the chemical profession.

Society of Manufacturing Engineers Education Foundation — Scholarships

Scholarships for Graduating High School Seniors, College Undergraduates, and Graduate Students

The Foundation awards scholarships to graduating high school seniors, current undergraduates and masters or doctoral degree students pursuing degrees in manufacturing and related fields at two-year and four-year colleges.

Texas Tech University, College of Engineering

College Scholarships

The Whitacre College of Engineering offers a number of externally funded scholarships. Each department offers scholarships to students within the department.

U.S. Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) — Scholarships and Grants

Eisenhower Transportation Graduate Fellowships

The Dwight David Eisenhower Transportation Fellowship Program (DDETFP) awards fellowships to students pursuing degrees in transportation-related disciplines. This program advances the transportation workforce by attracting the brightest minds to the field through education, research, and workforce development. The DDETFP encompasses all modes of transportation.

Scholarships For High School Students

QuestBridge — College Prep for High School Juniors & Seniors

National College Match

- Sep 28 The QuestBridge National College Match helps outstanding low-income high school seniors gain admission and full four-year scholarships to some of the nation's most selective colleges. If you are a student who has achieved academic excellence in the face of economic challenges, we encourage you to apply to the National College Match. QuestBridge's partner colleges offer generous financial aid packages that cover 100% of demonstrated financial need, making them very affordable for low-income students.

Quest for Excellence Awards

- Mar 31 The Quest for Excellence program is an innovative initiative for talented, low-income high school juniors and seniors, and serves as a powerful complement to the College Prep Scholarship and National College Match programs. Quest for Excellence Awards are designed to enhance educational exploration for qualified juniors and seniors with a range of backgrounds and interests.

Ventures Scholars Program

High School Students Interested in Pursuing Math- and Science-Based Careers

As a high school Ventures Scholar, you are provided with a variety of services. Your name will be shared with the Ventures Scholars Program Consortium, a membership of over 200 member colleges and universities interested in helping you achieve your career goals. You can learn about math and science careers simply by contacting the member professional associations. All Ventures Scholars can download their personalized certificate of recognition. Some of the member institutions request the certificate when granting fee waivers to Ventures Scholars. Most Ventures Scholars include their certificate along with the college application. You will receive a biweekly e-mail newsletter for high school Ventures Scholars that provides continuously updated information on a broad array of topics and resources about the college planning process and VSP consortium members.

Posse Foundation

College Scholarships for Public High School Seniors who live in Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Houston, Los Angeles, Miami, New Orleans, New York and Washington, D.C.

Posse identifies public high school students with extraordinary academic and leadership potential who may be overlooked by traditional college selection processes. Posse extends to these students the opportunity to pursue personal and academic excellence by placing them in supportive, multicultural teams—Posses—of 10 students. Posse partner colleges and universities award Posse Scholars four-year, full-tuition leadership scholarships.

Gains in the Education of Mathematics and Science (GEMS) - U.S. Army

- Mar 2 This program is intended for high school students who have completed at least Grade 9. SEAP is an eight week summer research opportunity at participating ONR laboratories. Applicants must be 16 years of age for most Laboratories and U.S. citizens. A competitive stipend is available. The application cycle is from October to January.

U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) — Opportunities for Students and College Graduates

CDC Disease Detective Camp for Upcoming High School Juniors and Seniors

Apr 3 CDC Disease Detective Camp is a week-long day camp for rising high school juniors and seniors that exposes students to epidemiology, the field of public health and the diverse career opportunities within the field of public health. Two separate, but identical iterations of the camp are held each summer.

Pathways Program

Summer student employment for high school, college and graduate students. The Pathways Programs offer clear paths to Federal internships for students from high school through post-graduate school and to careers for recent graduates, and provide meaningful training and career development opportunities for individuals who are at the beginning of their Federal service.

Jack Kent Cooke Foundation

Young Scholars (High-Achieving Youth with Financial Need)

Mar 20 The Young Scholars Program provides the most personalized, generous scholarship experience in the nation. The Foundation works closely with Scholars and their families to construct a tailored educational program that includes, but is not limited to, support for summer programs, distance learning courses, and music and art instruction. Some Young Scholars attend a private school if none of their public school options adequately serve their academic potential; however, many stay in their public schools.

Smithsonian Institution Latino Center

Young Ambassadors Program

Apr 7 For Graduating High School Seniors with an Interest and Commitment to Disciplines in the Arts, Sciences, or Humanities as it Pertains to Latino Communities and Cultures.

Community Foundation for Greater New Haven

Milton Fisher Scholarship for Innovation and Creativity

Apr 30 This scholarship is not a traditional scholarship focused on rewarding academic achievement and financial need. Its specific goal is to reward and encourage innovative and creative problem solving. The Scholarship aims to honor these students and to help make their higher education goals more accessible. Open to residents of all US states who will be attending college in NY or CT and also to residents of NY or CT who will be attending college anywhere in the United States.

Nordstrom

College Scholarships for High School Juniors in Selected Areas

May 1 Nordstrom awards $10,000 scholarships to 80 outstanding high school students to help them achieve their dreams of going to college. The Nordstrom Scholarship recognizes students across the country for their exceptional scholastic achievement and community involvement.

Institute for Educational Advancement

Caroline D. Bradley Scholarships for High School Students

May 2 This prestigious award offers scholarship support, academic guidance and the opportunity to develop lifelong connections with a unique peer network. Caroline D. Bradley Scholars receive a four-year high school scholarship that covers day student tuition or an approved alternative educational program. The award does not cover boarding expense. Siemens Math, Science and Technology Competition for High School Students — Up to $100,000 College Scholarships

Sep 22 The Siemens Competition in Math, Science & Technology recognizes remarkable talent early on, fostering individual growth for high school students who are willing to challenge themselves through science research.

Through this competition, students have an opportunity to achieve national recognition for science research projects that they complete in high school.

Carson Scholars Fund

College Scholarships

- Dec 19 The Carson Scholars Fund awards college scholarships to students in grades 4-11 who excel academically and are dedicated to serving their communities. Scholarship winners receive the honor of being named "Carson Scholars" and are awarded an Olympic-sized medal and a trophy for their school to celebrate their accomplishments.

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency — Environmental Education

President's Environmental Youth Awards \(PEYA\)

- Dec 31 The PEYA program promotes awareness of our nation's natural resources and encourages positive community involvement. It recognizes young people across the U.S. for protecting our nation's air, water, land, and ecology.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology \(MIT\)

MITES Program for High School Juniors

- Feb 20 The MITES Program is a rigorous six-week residential, academic enrichment summer program for talented high school students who are interested in studying and exploring careers in science and engineering.

U.S. National Institutes of Health \(NIH\) — Training Programs in the Biomedical Sciences

Summer Internship Program in Biomedical Research \(SIP\) — \$1,700 to \$2,200/mo.

- Mar 1 The Summer Internship Program is for students who will be sixteen years of age or older at the time they begin the program and who are currently enrolled at least half-time in high school or an accredited U.S. college or university as undergraduate, graduate, or professional students. Students who have been accepted into a college or university program may also apply.

American Museum of Natural History

Young Naturalist Awards

- Mar 1 The Young Naturalist Awards is an inquiry-based science competition for students in grades 7-12 to promote participation and communication in science.

Children's Scholarship Fund

Transfer from Public to Private School Scholarships

The Children's Scholarship Fund aims to maximize educational opportunity for all children: for those in need by offering tuition assistance in grades K-8 for alternatives to faltering conventional schools, and for all children by supporting and cultivating education reform and parental choice efforts.

Davidson Institute for Talent Development — Programs and Scholarships

Free support services for profoundly gifted students ages 5 to 18 in educational advocacy, talent and interest development, and peer connections

- 1st of mo. The Davidson Young Scholars Program provides FREE services designed to nurture and support profoundly gifted young people. Students and their parents receive assistance - free consulting services, an online community, annual get-togethers, ambassador program, free guidebooks.

Intel Education Initiative — Competitions

Intel International Science and Engineering Fair

Each year, approximately 7 million high school students around the globe develop original research projects and present their work at local science competitions with the hope of making it to the Intel International Science and Engineering Fair, a program of Society for Science & the Public. Only the best and brightest-1,600 winners of local, regional, state, and national competitions-are invited to participate in this week-long celebration of science, technology, engineering, and math. At the event, these young innovators share ideas, showcase cutting-edge research, and compete for more than USD 4 million in awards and scholarships.

Intel Science Talent Search for High School Seniors

Each year, more than 1,700 seniors attending American high schools conduct original research projects and present their work in the country's oldest, most prestigious pre-college science competition: the Intel Science Talent Search, a program of Society of Science & the Public. Forty of these young innovators are chosen as finalists and invited to participate in a nearly week-long event in Washington, D.C., where they compete for over USD 1.25 million in awards and scholarships.

William Randolph Hearst Foundations

United States Senate Youth Program and College Scholarships for High School Juniors or Seniors

Student leaders will spend a week in Washington experiencing their national government in action. Student delegates will hear major policy addresses by Senators, cabinet members, officials from the Departments of State and Defense and directors of other federal agencies, as well as participate in a meeting with a Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court.

Biology, Environmental Sciences And Agriculture Scholarships

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) — Fellowships and Scholarships

Greater Research Opportunities \(GRO\) Fellowships for Undergraduate Environmental Study — Up to $20,700/yr plus $8,600 internship

May 19 Eligible students will receive support for their junior and senior years of undergraduate study and for an internship at an EPA facility during the summer between their junior and senior years.

Science to Achieve Results \(STAR\) Fellowships for Graduate Environmental Study

May 26 Graduate fellowships for master's and doctoral level students in environmental fields of study.

A National Student Design Competition for Sustainability Focusing on People, Prosperity and the Planet

Dec 16 EPA's P3: People, Prosperity, and the Planet-Program is a unique college competition for designing solutions for a sustainable future. P3 offers students quality hands-on experience that brings their classroom learning to life. The competition has two phases. For the first phase of the competition, teams are awarded a $15,000 grant to develop their idea. They bring the design in April to the National Sustainable Design Expo in Washington DC to compete for the P3 Award and a grant of $90,000 to take their design to real world application.

Grants and Fellowships

Grants and fellowship information.

Internships, Fellowships, and Student Programs

Numerous opportunities are available within EPA for students to gain vital career experience while contributing to the mission of protecting human health and safeguarding the environment. Internships, fellowships and other opportunities are available in Washington, D.C., laboratories, and at regional EPA locations nationwide.

Smithsonian Institution — Fellowship and Internship Opportunities

Smithsonian Tropical Research Institute Postdoctoral Fellowships — $45,000 per year

Jan 15 Disciplines include ecology, anthropology, paleontology, paleoecology, evolutionary biology, molecular phylogenetics, biogeography, animal behavior, neurobiology, soils sciences, and physiology of tropical plants and animals.

Smithsonian Garden Internship Opportunities

Feb 1 Fellowships support full-time independent, thesis and dissertation research based at Smithsonian Gardens office in Washington, D.C.

Jul 1

Link Foundation Graduate Fellowships in the Marine Sciences — $6,500

Feb 15 Interns will learn skills in a broad range of horticultural endeavors from SI's expert professional staff and can provide a strong practical background to emerging professionals hoping to enter the public gardening world.

Smithsonian Biodiversity Genomics Postdoctoral Fellowship Program — $48,000 per year

The program promotes collaborative research in these fields involving comparative genomic approaches such as phylogenomics, population genomics, metagenomics or transcriptomics, and have a component that involves significant bioinformatics analysis. Applicants must propose to conduct research in-residence for a period of 12 to 24 months. Applicants must have completed or be near completion of the Ph.D. Recipients who have not completed the Ph.D. at the time of application must provide proof of completion of the degree before the fellowship begins.

American Society for Microbiology \(ASM\) — Student Fellowships

ASM Undergraduate Research Fellowships

Feb 1 A 10-12 week summer program for students to conduct microbiology-related research with an ASM member at the student's undergraduate institution. Requires joint application from student and faculty sponsor.

ASM/CDC Postdoctoral Research Fellowship Program

Feb 15 The goal of ASM/CDC Fellowship is to support the development of new approaches, methodologies and knowledge in infectious disease prevention and control in areas within the public health mission of the CDC. The fellowship allows one to perform research in residence headquartered at a Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) location. Eligible fields of study include: bacterial and mycotic diseases, viral and rickettsial infections, nosocomial infections, hiv/aids, vector-borne infectious diseases, and parasitic diseases.

ASM Robert D. Watkins Graduate Research Fellowships

May 1 Three-year tenure for senior-level graduate students from historically excluded and underrepresented groups to conduct research in microbiology.

International Fellowships for Africa, Asia, Latin America and the Caribbean

These grants offer fellowships to promising young investigators in resource limited nations who are within five years of obtaining, or are in the process of obtaining, their Masters, PhD, or other equivalent academic degree, and who are working in any of the microbiology disciplines.

Graduate and Postdoctoral Opportunities

Senior level Ph.D. students and early career postdoctoral scientists.

ASM Undergraduate Research Capstone Program

Dec 1 An 10-12 week summer program for students from underrepresented and historically excluded groups to conduct microbiology-related research with an ASM member at a sponsoring institution.

University of Washington, Friday Harbor Laboratories — Fellowships and Scholarships

Research Apprenticeships in Marine Research for Undergraduates and Post-Baccalaureates

Jan 25 Applications are welcome from undergraduates, post-baccalaureates or graduate students from any institution, worldwide. Applicants do not need to be currently enrolled at the University of Washington or any other university or college.
Jul 1

Blinks Summer Fellowships in Marine Research

Mar 1 The awards link undergraduate students with scientist-mentors as collaborators in marine science research projects.

U.S. National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration \(NOAA\) — Student Internships and Scholarships

Ernest F. Hollings College Scholarships in Oceanic and Atmospheric Science, Research, Technology, and Education — Up to a maximum of \$8,000 per year plus a 10-week, full-time summer internship

Jan 30 Provide successful undergraduate applicants with awards that include academic assistance for full-time study during the 9-month academic year; a 10-week, full-time internship position during the summer at a NOAA facility; and, if reappointed, academic assistance for full-time study during a second 9-month academic year.

Sea Grant Office and NOAA Fisheries Graduate Fellowships in Population Dynamics and Marine Resource Economics - — \$38,500 per year

- Jan 24 Ph.D. candidates interested in the population dynamics of living marine resources and the development and implementation of quantitative methods for assessing their status can receive up to three years of funding. Ph.D. students in marine resource economics, concentrating on the conservation and management of living marine resources, can receive two years of funding.

Coastal Services Center Coastal Management Fellowships — \$34,000 per year

- Jan 23 Provide on-the-job education and training opportunities in coastal resource management and policy for postgraduate students.

Dean John A. Knauss Marine Policy Fellowships — \$45,000

- Mar 31 Provide a unique educational experience to students who have an interest in ocean, coastal and Great Lakes resources and in the national policy decisions affecting those resources.

NOAA Coral Reef Management Fellowships

- Jul 15 Applicants typically have a master's degree and two years of experience or a bachelor's degree and four years of experience. Jurisdictions may require additional or alternate skills, such as outreach and education experience. Although most applicants hold either Bachelor's or Master's degrees, applicants holding a PhD or JD are welcome to submit an application for consideration.

Dr. Nancy Foster Graduate Scholarships in Oceanography, Marine Biology and Maritime Archaeology — Up to \$42,000

- Dec 10 The scholarship program recognizes outstanding scholarship and encourages independent graduate level research -- particularly by female and minority students -- in oceanography, marine biology and maritime archaeology (including all science, engineering, social science and resource management of ocean and coastal areas).

National Research Council \(NRC\) — Research Associateship Programs

Postdoctoral Research Associateship Programs for Scientists and Engineers

- Nov 1 Tenable at U.S. Laboratories and NASA Research Centers. The mission of the NRC Research Associateship Programs (RAP) is to promote excellence in scientific and technological research conducted by the U. S. government through the administration of programs offering graduate, postdoctoral, and senior level research opportunities at sponsoring federal laboratories and affiliated institutions.

- Aug 1
- Nov 1

Rocky Mountain Conservancy

Graduate Fellowships at the Rocky Mountain National Park — \$8,000 plus up to \$3,000 for expenses

- Feb 1 The award is designed to encourage highly qualified graduate students to apply their talents to conducting research in the national parks. It is also intended to convey the importance of communicating park research to the public.

American Museum of Natural History — Fellowship and Grant Opportunities

International Graduate Student Fellowships

The Center for Biodiversity and Conservation (CBC) created the International Graduate Student Fellowship Program in 1994 to train scientists from regions of the world where biodiversity is richest and most threatened. The program focuses on training in ecology, evolutionary biology, and conservation biology in tandem with the CBC's Network of Conservation Educators and Practitioners (NCEP), and aims to equip students with the practical and theoretical training they will need to address environmental problems in their home countries.

Graduate Student and Postdoctoral Fellowships

Dedicated to the training of Ph.D. candidates in those scientific disciplines practiced at the Museum.

Undergraduate Fellowships

Every summer AMNH hosts two National Science Foundation Research Experience for Undergraduate Site grants: Research in Evolution and Systematics, and Earth Sciences and Astrophysics. In these programs, undergraduate students who have completed their freshman through junior years may work with AMNH scientists on one of an array of potential research projects that are available each year.

National Hydropower Association

Past Presidents' Legacy Scholarships —\$2,500

Feb 15 Awards for college juniors & seniors and graduate students in engineering, sciences (biology, fisheries, and hydrology), communications, or environmental studies.

Mote Marine Laboratory

Research Experiences for Undergraduates \(REU\)

Feb 15 The awards offer paid research training experiences in estuarine science to undergraduate students during a 10-week summer period.

Internships

Mote Internships allow college students and recent college graduates to gain valuable hands-on experience in ocean science research, conservation, education and support services.

Hudson River Foundation

Tibor T. Polgar Summer Fellowships for Undergraduate and Graduate Students

Feb 18 This program provides a summertime grant and limited research funds for college students (both undergraduate and graduate students are eligible) to conduct research on the Hudson River.

Mark B. Bain Graduate Fellowships

Mar 17 The Foundation will award research fellowships to advanced graduate students conducting research on the Hudson River system.

University of New Hampshire Marine Program — Fellowships

Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowships

Mar 1 Designed to create research experiences for undergraduate students who are interested in pursuing graduate work. SURF is aimed primarily at students who are working toward a degree in science, engineering, or math and are completing their junior year.

The Brian E. Doyle Undergraduate Marine Extension Fellowship — \$3,000

Apr 11 Applications will be accepted from students beginning their junior or senior year at any four-year undergraduate institution in New Hampshire. Fisheries and aquaculture, marine literacy, coastal communities and climate adaptation, healthy coastal ecosystems, communications

Wildlife Conservation Society

Research Fellowships — Up to \$20,000

Jul 16 Designed to build capacity for the next generation of conservationists by supporting individual field research projects that have a clear application to the conservation of threatened wildlife and wild places.

National Wildlife Federation — Campus Ecology

EcoLeader Graduate Student Research Fellowships

Feb 25 NWF is seeking graduate students in the U.S. to conduct and test market research and business planning and assist with content development for the new NWF EcoLeaders online community. There will be two track options for the Fellowship, Market Research and Content Development.

Stanford University, Aldo Leopold Leadership Program

Aldo Leopold Fellowships for Environmental Scientists — Unpaid

Apr 28 Media and policy specialists, leading researchers, and business leaders participate as trainers in hands on sessions in which the Fellows are taught methods to engage and communicate with a variety of audiences.

Bermuda Institute of Ocean Sciences (BIOS) — Education

Research Experiences for Undergraduates

May 30 This program provides recipients with the opportunity to design and conduct intensive, hands-on research projects under faculty supervision and mentorship in several active and ongoing research areas.

American Academy of Underwater Sciences (AAUS) — Scholarships and Internships

Graduate Scholarships — $1,500 to $3,000

Jun 30 Awards for students engaged in, or planning to begin, a research project in which diving is or will be used as a principal research tool or studying diving science.

Internships

Brown and Caldwell

Scholarships for Students

Apr 15 Awards in civil, chemical or environmental engineering or one of the environmental sciences (e.g., geology, hydrogeology, biology, ecology, public health, industrial hygiene or toxicology).

Earth Island Institute

Brower Youth Awards in Environmental Conservation, Preservation and Restoration

The Brower Youth Awards recognize young people in North America for their outstanding activism and achievements in the fields of environmental and environmental justice advocacy.

Earthwatch Institute — Education

Student Fellowships for High School Rising Sophomores and Juniors

Earthwatch student fellows get to join one of Earthwatch's expeditions around the world to work with top scientists and other students in the field.

Fellowships for Elementary, Middle, and High School Educators and Administrators

Get out of the classroom and head into the field to learn about cutting edge research and conservation efforts, to develop professional skills, and to make a difference for our shared environment.

Entomological Society of America — Awards, Honors, and Scholarships

Awards and Scholarships

Each year the Entomological Society of America, Certification Corporation, and the Entomological Foundation provide annual honors and awards to recognize scientists, educators, and students, who have distinguished themselves through their contributions to entomology.

Environmental Leadership Program

National Fellowships

- Jul 21 The National Fellowship Program offers intensive leadership and skills training, national networking opportunities, and time for personal and professional reflection. Through immersive retreats, the curriculum helps emerging leaders hone their leadership styles, improve their strategy and organizational development, and strengthen their outreach to diverse constituencies. With the assistance of professional coaching and peer learning, each Fellow develops a Personal Leadership Plan. The National Fellowship consists of two multi-day retreats and access to 4 hours of professional coaching.

Regional Fellowships

The Regional Fellowship Programs offers intensive leadership and skill training, regional and national networking opportunities, and time for personal and professional reflection. Through retreats and optional additional trainings, the curriculum helps emerging leaders hone their leadership styles, improve their strategy and organizational development, and strengthen their outreach to diverse constituencies.

U.S. Department of Agriculture

Food and Agricultural Sciences National Needs Graduate Fellowships

- Aug 19 Proposals may be submitted by all U.S. colleges and universities that confer a master's or doctoral degree in at least one area of the food and agricultural sciences targeted for national needs fellowships.

Internships and Special Programs

Student employees gain valuable professional experience as an assistant in scientific, professional, technical, and/or administrative areas.

U.S. Department of Energy — Internships, Fellowships and Scholarships

DOE Office of Science Graduate Student Research (SCGSR) Program

- Apr 14 The goal of the Office of Science Graduate Student Research (SCGSR) program is to prepare graduate students for science, technology, engineering, or mathematics (STEM) careers critically important to the DOE Office of Science mission, by providing graduate thesis research opportunities at DOE laboratories. The SCGSR program provides supplemental awards to outstanding U.S. graduate students to pursue part of their graduate thesis research at a DOE laboratory in areas that address scientific challenges central to the Office of Science mission. The research opportunity is expected to advance the graduate students' overall doctoral thesis while providing access to the expertise, resources, and capabilities available at the DOE laboratories.

Welder Wildlife Foundation

Fellowships for Graduate Students in Wildlife Ecology and Related Areas — $1400.00/mo. for M.S. candidates and $1600.00/mo. for Ph.D. candidates

- Oct 1 The program is designed to promote the education of exceptionally qualified students and provide research information to manage wildlife populations.

The Hertz Foundation — Graduate Fellowship Awards

Graduate Fellowships in Applied Physical, Biological and Engineering Sciences — Up to $37,000

- Oct 31 Eligible applicants for Hertz Fellowships must be students of the applied physical, biological and engineering sciences who are citizens or permanent residents of the United States of America, and who are willing to morally commit to make their skills available to the United States in time of national emergency. College seniors wishing to pursue the Ph.D. degree in any of the fields of particular interest to the Foundation, as well as graduate students already in the process of doing so, may apply.

Environmental Research and Education Foundation
Future Farmers of America — Grants and Scholarships

Scholarships for College and Graduate School

Feb 8 Each year the National FFA Organization awards approximately $2 million in scholarships designed to fit the diversity of its applicants. Scholarships are sponsored by businesses and individuals through the National FFA Foundation and are given for a wide variety of experiences, career goals and higher education plans.

Feeding Tomorrow - the Foundation of the Institute of Food Technologists — Programs
College Scholarships and Graduate Fellowships in Food Science and Technology

Freshman, sophomore, junior, senior, and graduate scholarships.

Natural-Human Systems in the Urbanizing Tropics: Graduate Traineeships

Apr 14 Integrative Graduate Education and Research Traineeship (IGERT). Research may cover climate, water, food security, renewable energy, waste management, biodiversity, or urban system services, among other topics. Award includes $30,000/year for two years; $2,000 for travel and education materials; office, computer and software usage; reserved space in all special courses and workshops.

International Crane Foundation — Get Involved

Crane Conservation Internships

Internships are usually six months in length and are open on a competitive basis.

United States-Israel Binational Agricultural Research and Development Fund (BARD)

Graduate and Postdoctoral Fellowships in Agricultural Research

Projects cover all phases of agricultural research and development, including integrated projects and strategic or applied research.

University of California, Davis

Postdoctoral Training

Each postdoctoral scholar is encouraged to choose one or two faculty mentors in addition to his/her primary mentor, to offer broader professional guidance.

Math And Physical Science Scholarships

Alfred P. Sloan Foundation

Sloan Research Fellowships in Chemistry, Physics, Mathematics, Computer Science, Economics, or Neuroscience

- Sep 15 The Sloan Research Fellowships seek to stimulate fundamental research by early-career scientists and scholars of outstanding promise. These two-year fellowships are awarded yearly to researchers in recognition of distinguished performance and a unique potential to make substantial contributions to their field.

Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution (WHOI) — Fellowships

Postdoctoral Scholar Program

- Jan 5 Eighteen-month Postdoctoral Scholar awards are offered annually to recipients of new or recent doctorates in the fields of chemistry, engineering, geology, geophysics, mathematics, meteorology, physics, and biology as well as oceanography.

Summer Student Fellowship Program

- Feb 15 A research project is at the heart of the Summer Student and Minority Fellowship programs. All fellows are expected to work on a project selected in collaboration with their sponsor(s) that will provide meaningful results in one summer's work. Research topics span a broad spectrum of topics throughout WHOI's science departments, and the Woods Hole Field Station of the United States Geological Survey (USGS).

Geophysical Fluid Dynamics Fellowships

- Feb 15 Graduate students and researchers from a variety of fields who share a common interest in the nonlinear dynamics of rotating, stratified fluids share an intense ten-week research experience, and vigorous discussions of concepts that span different disciplines.

Guest Student Program

The Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution offers a limited number of guest student appointments in our laboratories on a year-round basis for full-time graduate and undergraduate students in conjunction with their studies. Advanced high school students enrolled in Upper Cape and Island schools may also be eligible for a guest student appointment.

U.S. Department of Energy — Internships, Fellowships and Scholarships

Science Undergraduate Laboratory Internships (SULI)

- Jan 9 The SULIs program encourages undergraduate students to pursue science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) careers by providing research experiences at the Department of Energy (DOE) laboratories. Selected students participate as interns appointed at one of 17 participating DOE laboratories/facilities. They perform research, under the guidance of laboratory staff scientists or engineers, on projects supporting the DOE mission.

Krell Institute — Fellowships

U.S. Department of Energy National Nuclear Security Administration Stewardship Science Graduate Fellowships (SSGF)

- Jan 14 The Department of Energy National Nuclear Security Administration Stewardship Science Graduate Fellowship (SSGF) Program provides opportunities to students pursuing a Ph.D. in areas such as high-energy density physics, low-energy nuclear science, or properties of materials under extreme conditions.

U.S. Department of Energy Computational Science Graduate Fellowships (CSGF)

- Jan 27 The Department of Energy Computational Science Graduate Fellowship (DOE CSGF) program provides outstanding benefits and opportunities to students pursuing a PhD in scientific or engineering disciplines with an emphasis in high-performance computing.

Chemical Heritage Foundation — Fellowships and Travel Grants

Long-Term Dissertation and Postdoctoral Fellowships

Jan 15 Applicants for dissertation fellowships must be graduate students whose Ph.D. dissertations have been accepted by their respective university departments. Applicants for postdoctoral fellowships must have their Ph.D. in hand before the July prior to the start of the fellowship.

Smithsonian Institution — Fellowship and Internship Opportunities

National Air and Space Museum Fellowships in Aerospace History and Earth & Planetary Sciences

Jan 15 The National Air and Space Museum offers a variety of fellowships for predoctoral, postdoctoral, and non-academic researchers.

Harvard-Smithsonian Center for Astrophysics Postdoctoral Fellowships

Oct 30 Awarded to an outstanding researcher displaying significant promise in theory, observation, instrumentation, and/or laboratory experiments.

U.S. National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) — Student Internships and Scholarships

Coastal Services Center Coastal Management Fellowships — $34,000 per year

Jan 23 Provide on-the-job education and training opportunities in coastal resource management and policy for postgraduate students.

National Research Council (NRC) — Research Associateship Programs

Postdoctoral Research Associateship Programs for Scientists and Engineers

Nov 1 Tenable at U.S. Laboratories and NASA Research Centers. The mission of the NRC Research Associateship Programs (RAP) is to promote excellence in scientific and technological research conducted by the U. S. government through the administration of programs offering graduate, postdoctoral, and senior level research opportunities at sponsoring federal laboratories and affiliated institutions.

Space Telescope Science Institute (STScI) — Fellowships

Summer Student Program for Undergraduates

Jan 31 Each summer, the STScI brings highly motivated college students to Baltimore, Maryland, for a Space Astronomy Summer Program.

Hubble Postdoctoral Fellowships in Astronomy, Physics and Related Disciplines

Nov 6 The fellowship supports outstanding postdoctoral scientists whose research is broadly related to NASA Cosmic Origins scientific goals as addressed by any of the missions in that program: the Herschel Space Observatory, Hubble Space Telescope (HST), James Webb Space Telescope (JWST), Stratospheric Observatory for Infrared Astronomy (SOFIA), and the Spitzer Space Telescope.

Giacconi Postdoctoral Fellowships in Astronomy, Physics and Related Disciplines

Nov 6 The Giacconi Fellowship provides up to three years of support for outstanding postdoctoral researchers.

Washington Society of Certified Public Accountants

Accounting Student Scholarships

Feb 1 The Washington CPA Foundation awards scholarships annually to qualified accounting majors attending an accredited 4-year university in the state of Washington.

Geological Society of America

Undergraduate and Graduate Research Grants

Feb 2 Grants to encourage and support studies by students either in their senior year of their undergraduate studies, or at the Masters or Ph.D. level.

American Meteorological Society — Scholarships and Fellowships

AMS Minority Scholarships — Up to $3,000

Feb 6 The scholarships help support the college educations of minority students traditionally underrepresented in the sciences, especially Hispanic, Native American, and Black/African American students, who intend to pursue careers in the atmospheric or related oceanic and hydrologic sciences. Minority students who will be entering their freshman year of college in the fall are eligible to apply.

AMS Graduate Fellowships in the History of Science

Feb 6 To be awarded to a student in the process of completing a dissertation on the history of the atmospheric, or related oceanic or hydrologic sciences. The Fellowship carries a stipend and will support one year of dissertation research.

AMS Freshman Undergraduate Scholarships

Feb 6 The scholarship program is open to all high school students and designed to encourage study in the atmospheric and related sciences.

AMS Graduate Fellowships

Feb 10 A stipend will be presented to each fellowship recipient for a nine-month period in the academic year. In addition, fellowship recipients will receive partial travel support to attend the AMS Annual Meeting.

AMS Undergraduate Named Scholarships

Applicants must be entering their final year of undergraduate study in the fall and provide evidence of acceptance as a full-time student at an accredited U.S. institution at the time of the award.

Fermi National Accelerator Laboratory — Fellowships

Lee Teng Undergraduate Internship in Accelerator Science and Engineering for Undergraduate Students

Feb 8 The Lee Teng Undergraduate Internship in Accelerator Science and Engineering has been established by the Illinois Accelerator Institute to attract undergraduate students into the exciting and challenging world of particle accelerator physics and technology. A limited number of highly qualified students will be selected into this program. The program includes a generous stipend and all travel expenses.

Thesis Awards

Mar 20 To qualify the thesis must have been submitted as partial fulfillment of the Ph.D. requirements, be written in English, and must have been submitted in electronic form to the Fermilab Publications Office in accordance with Fermilab policy.

John Bardeen Engineering Fellowship for Master's and Doctoral Engineering Students

Provides full-time entry-level opportunities for outstanding engineering graduates who are interested in working in a cutting edge research environment. Fermilab provides opportunities in the fields of electrical, electronics, radio frequency systems, power distribution, magnets, RF cavities, mechanical, materials science and cryogenic engineering.

Peoples Postdoctoral Fellowships in Accelerator Physicists and Accelerator-Related Technology Specialists

Nov 1 Candidates must either have received within the prior three years a Ph.D. in accelerator physics or accelerator-related technology. Post-doctoral experience is not required or have received within the prior five years a Ph.D. in high energy physics or a related field. Candidates are normally expected to have at least three years of post-doctoral experience in high energy physics or a related field.

Robert R. Wilson Postdoctoral Fellowships in Particle Physics

- Nov 14 The successful candidate will be a Ph.D. physicist of exceptional talent with at least two years of post-doctoral experience. Provides unique opportunities for self-directed research in experimental physics through work on the Fermilab particle physics experiment of the candidate's choice. The Fermilab experimental program includes collider physics, studies of neutrino, muon, and astroparticle physics, as well as R&D and planning for experiments at future colliders and high intensity beams.

Lederman Postdoctoral Fellowships in Experimental Physics

- Dec In general, candidates should either have obtained a Ph.D. in an appropriate field within a year before the deadline for accepting applications or expect to obtain a Ph.D. in an appropriate field within approximately 6 months after the deadline for accepting applications. Postdoctoral candidates who have demonstrated outstanding ability in research and who in addition have a strong interest in education and outreach. Lederman Fellows have a choice in the broad program of experimental work at Fermilab which includes research at the LHC, neutrino physics, astroparticle physics, and research at the Intensity Frontier.

U.S. National Institute of Standards and Technology \(NIST\) — Educational Activities

Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowships \(SURF\), Boulder, Colorado

- Feb 13 Students must be undergraduates at a U.S. university or college with a scientific major, have a G.P.A. of 3.0/4.0 or better (recommended), and are considering pursuing a graduate degree (M.S. or Ph.D.). Students with physics, material science, chemistry, applied mathematics, computer science, or engineering majors are always encouraged to apply.

Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowships \(SURF\), Gaithersburg, Maryland

- Feb 13 You and your school are invited to participate in the Boulder, Colorado, Laboratories' NIST Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowship (SURF) program for students majoring in science, mathematics, and engineering. Opportunities are available in the fields of Chemical Science and Technology, Electronics and Electrical Engineering, Information Technology, Materials Science & Engineering, and Physics.

Southern California Earthquake Center

University of New Hampshire, Marine Program — Fellowship & Scholarship Opportunities

Marine Sciences Fellowships

- Mar 1 These fellowships are offered through and coordinated by the Marine Program on behalf of the following UNH/NOAA Centers of Excellence and Cooperative Institutes.

Harbor Branch Oceanographic Institution

Marine Science and Engineering Summer Internships

- Mar 1 Open to qualified undergraduate and graduate students, the 10-week program is designed to provide hands-on experience in a research environment in areas that include aquaculture, biomedical marine research, marine biology, marine mammal research, marine natural product chemistry, marine microbiology, ocean engineering, ocean technology, and oceanography.

American Institute of Certified Public Accountants — Legacy Scholars

AICPA/Accountemps Student Scholarships for Undergraduate or Graduate-Level Degree Accounting-Related Majors

- Apr 1 The AICPA/Accountemps Student Scholarship program provides financial assistance to outstanding accounting students who demonstrate potential to become leaders in the CPA profession.

AICPA Scholarship for Minority Accounting Students

- Apr 1 Provides financial awards to outstanding minority students to encourage their pursuit of accounting as a major and their ultimate entry into the profession.

John L. Carey Scholarships for Liberal Arts Degree Holders Pursuing Graduate Studies in Accounting

- Apr 1 Provides financial assistance to liberal arts and non-business degree holders who are pursuing both graduate studies in accounting and the CPA licensure. These awards are intended to encourage students with little or no previous accounting education to consider professional accounting careers.

Scholarship Opportunities

Search dozens of scholarship opportunities to find the hidden cash that's out there waiting for you.

Camille and Henry Dreyfus Foundation — Programs and Awards

Postdoctoral Program in Environmental Chemistry

- Aug 3 Applications are accepted from principal investigators who have well-established research efforts in environmental science or engineering. These research activities need not be located in traditional departments in the chemical sciences, and collaboration across departments and institutions is encouraged. The postdoctoral fellow is usually not already identified nor in the principal investigator's lab at the time of application.

IBM

IBM Ph.D. Fellowship Awards

- Oct 28 The IBM Ph.D. Fellowship Awards Program honors exceptional Ph.D. students who have an interest in solving problems that are important to IBM and fundamental to innovation in many academic disciplines and areas of study. These include: computer science and engineering, electrical and mechanical engineering, physical sciences (including chemistry, material sciences, and physics), mathematical sciences (including optimization), business sciences (including financial services, communication, and learning/knowledge), and service science, management, and engineering (SSME). Students must be nominated by a doctoral faculty member and enrolled full-time in a college or university Ph.D. program.

Damon Runyon Cancer Research Foundation

Postdoctoral Research Fellowships for Basic and Physician Scientists

The Foundation encourages all theoretical and experimental research relevant to the study of cancer and the search for cancer causes, mechanisms, therapies and prevention.

Scholar Awards to Support the Development of Outstanding Biomedical and Biochemical Scientists

Programs aimed at encouraging and advancing the work of early career cancer researchers with high promise. Each program is designed to address a need or fill a gap in cancer research funding.

Clinical Investigator Awards

The Damon Runyon Clinical Investigator Award supports independent young physician-scientists conducting disease-oriented research that demonstrates a high level of innovation and creativity. The goal is to support the best young physician-scientists doing work aimed at improving the practice of cancer medicine.

International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC) — IARC Fellowships for Cancer Research

Postdoctoral Fellowships for Training in Cancer Research

Applications are invited from junior scientists wishing to complete their training in those aspects of cancer research related to the Agency's mission: to coordinate and conduct both epidemiological and laboratory research into the causes and prevention of cancer. Disciplines covered are: epidemiology (including genetic and molecular), biostatistics, bioinformatics, and areas related to mechanisms of carcinogenesis including molecular and cell biology, molecular genetics, epigenetics, and molecular pathology. There is an emphasis on interdisciplinary projects.

Expertise Transfer Fellowships

The major areas of activity are focused on understanding cancer etiology (including infections, nutrition, lifestyle, environment, radiation, genetics), developing strategies for cancer prevention (primary prevention, screening, implementation research) and elucidating the underlying mechanisms of carcinogenesis through studies of molecular and cell biology, molecular genetics, epigenetics and molecular pathology. The Agency also has strong programs dedicated to describing the global cancer burden and to the evaluation of carcinogenicity through its Monographs Program. There is an emphasis on interdisciplinary work in the Agency's research activities.

Visiting Scientist Award for Senior Scientists

This award is for a qualified and experienced senior investigator with recent publications in international peer-reviewed scientific journals who wishes to spend from six to twelve months at the IARC working on a collaborative project in a research area related to the Agency's programs. The major areas of activity are focused on understanding cancer etiology (including infections, nutrition, lifestyle, environment, radiation, genetics), developing strategies for cancer prevention (primary prevention, screening, implementation research) and elucidating the underlying mechanisms of carcinogenesis through studies of molecular and cell biology, molecular genetics, epigenetics and molecular pathology. The Agency also has strong programs dedicated to describing the global cancer burden and to the evaluation of carcinogenicity through its Monographs Program. There is an emphasis on interdisciplinary work in the Agency's research activities as well as a focus on biostatistics, bioinformatics and related methodological developments.

International Union against Cancer

International Cancer Fellowships for Professionals Actively Engaged In Cancer Research, Clinical Oncology, Oncology Nursing, or Cancer Society Work

The fellowships provide opportunities for professional development for cancer investigators, clinicians, nurses, and cancer society staff and volunteers.

Leukemia and Lymphoma Society

Research Grants and Fellowships in Leukemia, Lymphoma, Hodgkin's Disease and Myeloma Research

The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society's (LLS's) academic grants support and encourage basic and translational leukemia, lymphoma and myeloma research. LLS investigators are outstanding scientists at the forefront of leukemia, lymphoma and myeloma research at centers throughout the world. We award academic grants for studies that range from basic blood cancer research to research that uses the latest tools of genomics.

Leukemia Research Foundation

Hollis Brownstein Research Grants Program

The Leukemia Research Foundation exclusively funds New Investigators - individuals beginning to establish their own laboratories that are no longer under the tutelage of a senior scientist mentor.

Lymphoma Research Foundation — Grants & Awards

Young Investigator Grants

These programs attract postdoctoral fellows and young physicians to the field of lymphoma and support their training in lymphoma and clinical research.

Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center

Clinical Fellowships

The fellowships prepare physicians for leadership roles in the care of people with cancer around the world. The training ground includes Memorial Hospital for Cancer and Allied Diseases. The proximity and affiliation with New York-Presbyterian Hospital/Weill Cornell Medical Center, Weill Cornell Graduate School of Medical Sciences, and The Rockefeller University also allows the trainees to become part of a world-class medical and scientific community.

Health Communications Internship Program \(HCIP\)

The HCIP gives highly qualified graduate students and recent graduate degree recipients the opportunity to participate in vital health and science communications projects in one of the many offices that make up the NCI. Interns will select an area of emphasis: health communications or science writing.

National Air and Space Museum — Research

National Air and Space Museum Summer Internship Program

Feb 15 Interns have a firsthand opportunity to learn about the historic artifacts and archival materials housed in the Museum and to study the scientific and technological advances they represent. To be considered for a summer internship, you must be a high school graduate and be enrolled in a degree-granting undergraduate or graduate program at an accredited college or university.

Parkinson's Disease Foundation

Summer Fellowships for Undergraduates and Medical Students

PDF's Summer Fellowship Program is used to support students - from advanced undergraduates to graduate and medical students - in their pursuit of Parkinson's-related summer research projects.

Space Telescope Science Institute (STScI) — Fellowships and Student Programs

Summer Student Program for Undergraduates

- Jan 31 Each summer, the STScI brings highly motivated college students to Baltimore, Maryland, for a Space Astronomy Summer Program. STScI is the scientific operations center for the Hubble Space Telescope and the future James Webb Space Telescope. The SAS Program runs from mid-June to mid-August, and is designed for upper division undergraduates with a strong interest in space astronomy.

Student Conservation Association (SCA)

Conservation Internships

Expense-paid internships, living stipend, housing, round trip travel, 18 and older, 3-12 months, all 50 states.

University of Wisconsin, Madison

Integrated Biological Sciences Summer Research Program

- Feb 15 Computational Biology & Biostatistics, Neuroscience, Cellular and Molecular Biology, Plant Biology, and Environmental Biology.

Wildlife Conservation Society

International Conservation Programs Internships

All WCS interns and volunteers based in New York City work within one of the four zoos or aquarium. With a strong focus on community education and a broad spectrum of functional areas, WCS is a prime institution for meaningful internships and volunteer experiences.

Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution (WHOI)

Summer Student Fellowship Program

- Feb 15 A research project is at the heart of the Summer Student and Minority Fellowship programs. All fellows are expected to work on a project selected in collaboration with their sponsor(s) that will provide meaningful results in one summer's work. Research topics span a broad spectrum of topics throughout WHOI's science departments, and the Woods Hole Field Station of the United States Geological Survey (USGS).

Geophysical Fluid Dynamics Fellowships

- Feb 15 Graduate students and researchers from a variety of fields who share a common interest in the nonlinear dynamics of rotating, stratified fluids share an intense ten-week research experience, and vigorous discussions of concepts that span different disciplines.

Woods Hole Diversity Advisory Committee

Summer Science Internships

- Feb 18 The Woods Hole Partnership Educational Program (PEP) is designed primarily for college juniors and seniors who want to spend a summer gaining practical experience in marine and environmental science. The program consists of a four-week course and a six-to-ten week research project - all in the sea-side village of Woods Hole.

U.S. National Academies

Christine Mirzayan Science and Technology Policy Graduate Fellowships

- Sep 9 Graduate and professional school students and those who have completed graduate studies (degree awarded) within the last five years may apply. Areas of study may include any social/behavioral science, medical/health discipline, physical or biological science, any field of engineering, law/business/public administration, or any relevant interdisciplinary fields.

Princeton University, Woodrow Wilson School of Public And International Affairs

Public Policy and International Affairs \(PPIA\) Junior Summer Institute \(JSI\)

- Nov 1 The PPIA Junior Summer Institute is a seven-week program structured to introduce or strengthen skills in economics, statistics, policy analysis, writing, public speaking and organization/time management.

CHCI Congressional Internship

- Nov 7 Provides college students with a paid Congressional work placement on Capitol Hill for a period of twelve weeks (Spring/Fall) or eight weeks (Summer).

American College of Healthcare Executives

Minority Internships in Healthcare and Professional Society Management

- Dec 1 The three-month internship program will provide an opportunity for the intern to rotate through all major ACHE divisions, including Communications and Marketing, Education, Executive Office, Finance and Administration, Health Administration Press, Management Information Systems, Membership, Regional Services, and Research.

American Society for Engineering Education — Fellowship Programs

Naval Research Enterprise Internship Program \(NREIP\)

- Dec 19 NREIP provides competitive research internships to undergraduate sophomores, juniors & seniors, and graduate students. Participating students typically spend ten weeks during the summer doing research at DoN laboratories. To participate, a student must be enrolled at an accredited 4 year US college or university and have completed their freshman year before beginning the internship.

Department of Homeland Security — Education Programs

DHS HS-STEM Summer Internships

- Dec 22 The U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) Science and Technology Directorate sponsors a 10-week summer internship program for students majoring in homeland security related science, technology, engineering and mathematics (HS-STEM) Disciplines. The program provides students with quality research experiences at federal research facilities located across the country and allows students the opportunity to establish connections with DHS professionals. It is open to undergraduate and graduate students in a broad spectrum of HS-STEM Disciplines and DHS mission-relevant Research Areas.

Biomedical Summer Internships

Massachusetts Institute of Technology — Undergraduate Outreach

Biology/BCS Summer Research Program \(MSRP\)

- Jan 30 The Department of Biology and the Department of Brain & Cognitive Sciences at MIT offer a joint 10-week research-intensive summer training program in the biological sciences, neurosciences or biomedical-related fields to advanced sophomore and junior science majors from other colleges and universities. Only current undergraduate students studying full time in the U.S. are eligible for this summer program.

MIT Undergraduate Summer Research Internships

Jan This program seeks to identify talented sophomores, juniors, and non-graduating seniors who might benefit from 30 spending a summer on MIT's campus, working in a research laboratory under the guidance of experienced scientists and engineers who are MIT faculty members, postdoctoral fellows, and advanced graduate students. Students who participate in this program will be better prepared and motivated to pursue advanced degrees, thereby helping to sustain a rich talent pool in critical areas of research and innovation.

Harvard University, Harvard-MIT Program in Health Sciences and Technology (HST) — HST Summer Institute
HST Summer Institute in Biomedical Informatics

Jan Undergraduate students interested in pursuing a career in bioinformatics are eligible to apply to this nine week
31 program. From a base on the Cambridge, Massachusetts MIT campus, students attend lectures and perform research at HST and Harvard-affiliated institutions. The program combines didactic lectures in informatics and genomics, clinical case studies and a mentored research project to expose students fully to the exciting world of genomic research.

HST Summer Institute in Biomedical Optics

Jan The HST-Wellman Summer Institute for Biomedical Optics provides undergraduate student participants with 16 research experience in the field of biomedical optics. The program objective is to inspire talented students to pursue advanced research, education, and careers in science and engineering. Research experience in this program is focused on engineering--from discovery of new transformative approaches to development of cutting-edge technologies. Innovation in biomedical optics requires understanding of physical and engineering principles, as well as biological and medical insights, to define important challenges and to understand how new technologies must perform.

Case Western Reserve University, Department Of Pharmacology — Educational Training Programs

Summer Undergraduate Research in Pharmacology

Jan The Summer Undergraduate Research Program provides "hands on" research experience for sophomores and juniors 31 in the area of molecular pharmacology. Although the projects will vary, each is related to a common theme - elucidation of the molecular mechanisms underlying the interaction of chemical agents such as drugs, hormones and neurotransmitters with biological systems.

Amgen-UROP Scholars Program

Feb The Amgen-UROP Scholars Program invites undergraduates to participate in faculty-mentored summer research at 2 MIT in the science and biotechnology areas for sophomore status (with 4 quarters or 3 semesters of college experience), juniors, and non-graduating seniors who plan to continue undergraduate studies. Participants become fully integrated in MIT's summer research community, interacting with faculty mentors and fellow undergraduates while participating in research seminars and other networking events.

Medical University of South Carolina — Summer Research Program

Summer Undergraduate Research Program (SURP)

Jan SURP offers undergraduates with a very strong interest in biosciences and biomedical research the opportunity to 31 work closely with faculty members on cutting edge biomedical research projects. During the 10-week program, participants will be taught important research skills and techniques. In addition, there is a mandatory seminar series component to the program with tracks in Cardiovascular Biology, Cancer Biology, Neuroscience and Oceans and Human Health.

Summer Health Professionals Research Program

Feb The goal of the program is to introduce students in the health professions to biomedical research by allowing them to 15 work during the summer in a research environment under the guidance of an experienced investigator. Students in MUSC's Colleges of Medicine, Nursing, Dental Medicine, Pharmacy, Health Professions and other Medical Schools throughout the United States, who are enrolled in a professional graduate program (e.g., MD, PharmD, DMD) are eligible to apply.

Johns Hopkins Medicine — Diversity Programs

Summer Internship Program (SIP)

Feb 1 The Summer Internship Program (SIP) provides experience in research laboratories to students of diverse backgrounds, including underrepresented minority students, students from economically disadvantaged and underserved backgrounds and students with disabilities that have completed one - two or more years of college. The purpose of this exposure to biomedical and/or public health research is to encourage students to consider careers in science, medicine and public health.

Yale University Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, Office for Diversity and Equal Opportunity

Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowship Program (SURF)

Feb 1 The SURF Program is intended for students with a strong desire to pursue research careers at the Ph.D. level. The program is particularly interested in identifying and providing research experience to talented underrepresented minority students. Preference is given to students completing their sophomore or junior years.

Albert Einstein College of Medicine — Financial Aid

Summer Undergraduate Research Program (SURP)

Feb 1 The program is designed for undergraduates with a strong background in science who are considering a research career. SURP students arrive at Einstein in mid-June for a nine-week research laboratory work experience. Students are matched to a laboratory in the area of interest they indicate on their application. At the end of the program, students present their research in a poster session. In addition to research, SURP students participate in a variety of complementary scientific activities.

Weill Cornell Graduate School of Medical Sciences (WCGS) — Financial Support

Access Summer Research Program

Feb 1 Access is a summer internship program that trains underserved college students in the biomedical sciences. Interns gain hands-on experience in a biomedical research laboratory and are encouraged to apply to PhD programs. Selected students are placed in laboratories at the Weill Cornell Medical College under the mentorship of experienced faculty members.

Gerstner Sloan-Kettering Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences

Summer Undergraduate Research Program (SURP)

Feb 1 A ten-week research program for outstanding undergraduate students who are interested in pursuing a career in the biomedical sciences. Participants have the opportunity to perform hands-on research in cutting-edge biomedical research laboratories. Designed for approximately 20 outstanding undergraduate freshmen, sophomores, and juniors.

Hunter College, Center for Translational and Basic Research (CTBR)

Summer Program for Undergraduate Research (SPUR)

Feb 1 SPUR is an 8-week program that gives undergraduates hands-on experience in one of 53 research laboratories at Hunter College, CUNY in NYC. The goal is to train and encourage undergraduate students to pursue graduate study in biomedical research, and in drug abuse/addiction and neuroscience. Students must major in biology, chemistry, biopsychology, biophysics or biotechnology, or another biomedical research area.

Mayo Clinic Graduate School — Research and Training Programs

Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowships (SURF)

Feb 1 A career in biomedical research is not for everyone, but if you love science, always want to know WHY, not just what, enjoy tough problems that just don't seem to want to be solved, want to contribute to new medical breakthroughs, and get a thrill out of discovery, then a career as a Ph.D. or M.D.-Ph.D. scientist might be for you. You won't be certain, though, until you immerse yourself in a research lab, and Mayo Clinic is one of the best places for you to do just that.

Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai — Degrees and Programs

Summer Undergraduate Research Program

- Feb 1 Summer research internships for outstanding undergraduate students who are planning to pursue an MD/PhD or a PhD and who are interested in doing research at a leading biomedical institution. Applications are invited from undergraduate students who are currently in their sophomore, or junior year, have a GPA of 3.5 or higher, and have a minimum of three months of research experience. Students who have a GPA of less than 3.5 but have extensive research experience are also encouraged to apply.

Northwestern University, the Graduate School — Diversity

Summer Research Opportunity Program (SROP)

- Feb 10 SROP is an eight-week competitive research experience at Northwestern University for sophomores and juniors from colleges and universities across the United States. All fields of research at Northwestern are open to SROP participants including the social sciences and humanities, physical sciences, chemical and biological sciences, technology, math and engineering fields. The program encourages students from underrepresented minority and other disadvantaged groups to apply.

Stanford University School of Medicine — Students and Trainees

Stanford Summer Research Program (SSRP)/Amgen Scholars

- Feb 3 The Stanford Summer Research Program/Amgen Scholars Program is a fully funded, nine-week, residential research program. It offers undergraduates who want to prepare for and enter Ph.D. programs in the sciences a unique opportunity for advanced research experience within a world class university.

Columbia University, Biological Sciences

Amgen Scholars Summer Research Program

- Feb 3 A summer research program for a select group of motivated undergraduate students who will benefit from the opportunity of hands-on biology related laboratory research. The Amgen Scholars Program is competitive, with awards based on grades, recommendations and career plans. You may apply if you are a US citizen or permanent resident and currently a sophomore, junior, or non-graduating senior at a four-year college or university in the United States, Puerto Rico or other US territory.

New York University (NYU) School of Medicine, Sackler Institute

Summer Undergraduate Research Program (SURP)

- Feb 3 SURP is for qualified sophomores and juniors who are interested in pursuing M.D., M.D./Ph.D. or Ph.D. degrees and a career in research. Students may work with faculty in the disciplines of Biochemistry, Biomedical Imaging, Cellular and Molecular Biology, Developmental Genetics, Immunology, Microbiology, Molecular Oncology, Molecular Pharmacology, Neuroscience and Physiology, Parasitology, Structural Biology, Forensic Pathology, Computational Biology and Virology.

Harvard University, Harvard Stem Cell Institute (HSCI) — Research

HSCI Internship Program (HIP)

- Feb 5 This is an undergraduate internship program open to rising sophomores, juniors, and seniors who express a strong interest in stem cell biology. Applicants may be from Harvard or any college or university across the United States and internationally. It provides undergraduate students with a focused and challenging summer research experience in a cutting-edge stem cell science laboratory. Interns are exposed to different professional options within the scientific arena through a stem cell seminar series, a career pathways presentation, and a weekly stem cell companion course.

Case Western Reserve University, Center for AIDS Research

Minority HIV Research Training Program (MHRTP)

- Feb 7 The MHRTP focuses on recruiting and training underrepresented minority research trainees to expand the pool of researchers in the HIV/AIDS field. The program offers research-training opportunities to qualified minority undergraduate students or recent graduates who are members of an underrepresented groups in biomedical and behavioral research careers. Participants in the MH RTP benefit from early exposure to HIV science, continuous research training and faculty mentoring.

Harvard University — Diversity

Summer Honors Undergraduate Research Program (SHURP)

- Feb 10 SHURP is a ten-week summer research program primarily for college students belonging to groups that are under-represented in the sciences. To be eligible for SHURP, applicants must be currently-enrolled undergraduates who will not have completed their BA/BS degree by June 2014, are considering careers in biological or biomedical research sciences, and have already had at least one summer (or equivalent term-time) of experience in a research laboratory.

Penn State College of Medicine — Summer Undergraduate Research

Summer Undergraduate Research Internship Program (SURIP)

- Feb 10 SURIP is designed for College students who are interested in pursuing a career in the biological sciences. The typical intern will be between their Sophomore and Junior year or between their Junior and Senior year of undergraduate studies. Students who will have a BA or BS prior to the start of the internship should not apply. SURIP 2014 would be most appropriate for students considering application to PhD programs in the Biomedical Sciences and is not intended for students who will apply to Medical School.

Rutgers Institute for Health, Health Care Policy and Aging Research — Undergraduate Research Training

Project L/EARN

- Feb 10 The goal of Project L/EARN is to increase the number of students from underrepresented groups in the fields of health, mental health, and health policy research, thereby expanding the breadth of health research to include a broader range of ethnic, cultural, and socioeconomic issues, concerns and perspectives. For students who have at least one full academic year left to complete their undergraduate degree. Project L/EARN identifies students from economically disadvantaged backgrounds, first generation college attenders, and those from racial/ethnic minority groups who have an interest in health-related social science fields, and provides them with training, experience and mentoring to make them stronger candidates for admission to graduate programs. Past interns have come from a variety of majors, including psychology, sociology, economics, political science, nursing, public health, pharmacy, biology, statistics, urban studies, and public policy. Project L/EARN is open to students from any U.S. college or university.

Marquette University, Biomedical Sciences

Biomedical Sciences Summer Research Program

- Feb 14 A competitive summer program for rising sophomore, junior, and senior undergraduate students with interests in biomedical research. Successful applicants to the program receive a summer research stipend for participation in the 10-week, 40-hr per week program. As part of the program, students conduct biomedical research in the laboratories of participating faculty mentors and present their findings and a symposium upon completion.

Boston University — Undergraduate Research Opportunities

Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowship (SURF) Program

- Feb 14 The SURF Program is designed to promote access to graduate education for talented undergraduate students, especially those from minority groups traditionally underrepresented in the sciences: African-American, Hispanic, Native American/Native Alaskan, and Pacific Islander/Native Hawaiian/Polynesian. It is open to non-BU students who are rising juniors or rising seniors, and wish to conduct research in the sciences, technology, or engineering. The program consists of ten weeks of full-time research in a Boston University lab, mentored by a BU faculty member. Most SURF research projects are in areas related to Biology and Neuroscience.

Harvard University, School of Public Health

Summer Program in Quantitative Sciences

- Feb 1 The Summer Program is a relatively intensive 4-week program, during which qualified participants receive an interesting and enjoyable introduction to biostatistics, epidemiology, and health and social behavior. This program is designed to expose undergraduates to the use of quantitative methods for biological, environmental, medical and public health research.

Case Western Reserve University — ACES Program

ACES+ Summer Research Program for Science and Engineering (S&E)

- Feb This program seeks to attract students to pursue research in science or engineering as a career. It is organized in 15 cooperation with the Support of Undergraduate Research and Creative Endeavors (SOURCE) and the Summer Program in Undergraduate Research (SPUR) at Case Western Reserve University. Each student will be assigned to a faculty mentor with related research interests.

Medical College of Wisconsin, Medical School — Diversity Programs

Diversity Summer Health-Related Research Education Program (DSHREP)

- Feb 10-week summer fellowship open to resident and non-resident undergraduate and graduate students from diverse 15 backgrounds. Sponsored by the National Heart, Lung, Blood Institute (NHLBI). Monthly salary, housing and travel expenses available.

Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center — Research Education and Training

Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowships (SURF)

- Feb The SURF Program offers undergraduates the chance to explore clinical and basic science research in laboratories in 15 the Department of Pediatrics, University of Cincinnati College of Medicine. The primary goal is to provide students with a foundation for making career choices in the biomedical sciences.

Kansas State University, Center for Sustainable Energy — Education

REU Summer Academy in Sustainable Bioenergy

- Feb Students will be accepted from all science, socioeconomic, agricultural, and engineering majors. Applicants must be 15 American citizens or permanent residents. Preference is given to students who have completed their sophomore or junior year. Outstanding first-year students may be considered. Graduating seniors are not eligible. Research activities in this program under the guidance of faculty mentors, will advance students' state of knowledge in sustainable energy. Students will participate in "hands-on" experiences with processing agricultural biomass, experiencing the physical environment of industrial-scale biomass processing with all its limitations and opportunities. Students will also meet people who actually perform the work to produce renewable energy for the communities where they live.

Case Western Reserve University, School of Medicine

Heart, Lung and Blood (HLB) Summer Research Program

- Feb The Heart, Lung and Blood Summer Research Program is designed to engage 12 diverse undergraduates and 8
15 medical students in state-of-the art biomedical research in cardiovascular, pulmonary, hematological and sleep disorders research. Students who belong to groups underrepresented in biomedical sciences are eligible to apply. In Mar 1 general, this includes students who are African American, Latino, Puerto Rican, Pacific Islanders, students from low-income families, or those with disabilities. Please note that you must be a US citizen or Permanent resident to participate.

SUNY Upstate Medical University, College of Graduate Studies — Programs

Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowship Program

- Feb Applicants to the program should be undergraduate students in good academic standing, who will be between their 16 junior and senior years during the summer of 2014, and are majors in chemistry, biology, or a related field. Applicants must have a strong interest in pursuing a Ph.D. degree in biomedical research.

Harvard University, Harvard Medical School and Brigham and Women's Hospital (BWH)

Four Directions Summer Research Program (FDSRP)

- Feb FDSRP is a summer research opportunity at Harvard Medical School and Brigham and Women's Hospital (BWH)
17 for undergraduate students with a commitment to the health of Native American communities. Students engage for 8 weeks in basic science or translational research projects under the supervision of Harvard Medical School faculty advisors. At the end of the 8 weeks students share their research findings during a final research presentation day. Students also receive career development training, meet faculty from across the hospital and medical school, and participate in a variety of social networking events.

Georgia Regents University — Graduate Studies

Student Training and Research Program \(STAR\)

- Feb 17 STAR is designed to provide biomedical research experience for undergraduate students with a sincere desire to pursue a graduate education in biomedical sciences. During the course of the nine-week program, STARs actively participate in a biomedical research project under the guidance of an GRU faculty member. STAR participants attend workshops, discussion groups and laboratory demonstrations that expose them to a broad range of biomedical research techniques, approaches and laboratory experiences. It provides excellent preparation and relevant experience for students planning to pursue a PhD or MD/PhD in the biomedical sciences.

National Institute of Diabetes and Digestive and Kidney Diseases \(NIDDK\) — STEP-UP

STEP-UP

- Feb 15 The High School STEP-UP provides hands-on summer research experience for high school students interested in exploring research careers in the biomedical, behavioral, clinical and social sciences. The program provides exposure to the core NIDDK mission areas of diabetes, endocrinology and metabolic diseases; digestive diseases and nutrition; kidney, urologic and hematologic diseases.

High School and Undergraduate STEP-UP

- Feb 15 Applicants must be 16 years of age or older and either be enrolled in high school or an accredited U.S. college or university, or plan to be enrolled in the fall. The STEP-UP provides hands-on summer research experience for undergraduate students interested in exploring research careers in the biomedical, behavioral, clinical and social sciences. The program provides exposure to the core NIDDK mission areas of diabetes, endocrinology and metabolic diseases; digestive diseases and nutrition; kidney, urologic and hematologic diseases.

Indiana University, Simon Cancer Center — Training Programs

Summer Research Program

- Feb 28 The IU Simon Cancer Center Summer Research Program (SRP) aims to increase the number of high school and undergraduate students from underrepresented populations pursuing biomedical and behavioral science careers by providing positive and meaningful firsthand exposure to these fields. SRP participants are full-time high school or undergraduate students from populations underrepresented in biomedical or behavioral sciences. All students from metropolitan Indianapolis, from surrounding county high schools or from colleges and universities who meet the program criteria are encouraged to apply.

Des Moines University — Financial Aid

Health Professions Advanced Summer Scholars

- Mar 1 Provides participants with well-rounded perspectives on what it's like to be a medical school student in osteopathic medicine, podiatric medicine and surgery, physical therapy and physician assistant studies.

Loma Linda University — Center for Health Disparities

Undergraduate Training Program \(UTP\)

- Mar 1 The UTP includes scientific mentoring, participation in scientific seminars and lectures, educational enrichment activities, participation in our Health Disparities Research Symposium, and opportunities to attend national meetings to make scientific presentations. Participating students will be compensated competitively on an hourly basis.

The Ohio State University, College of Pharmacy — Research

Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowships in the Pharmaceutical Sciences

- Mar 1 Fellowships are available for undergraduate sophomore and junior students who would like to do research work in any of the pharmaceutical sciences during the summer. This fellowship is for those students who would like to know more about the discovery, use, or mechanisms of drugs, who like working in a lab, or who would just like to find out if they like working in the lab. Students conduct research in the areas of Pharmacology, Pharmaceutics, Pharmacy Practice, or Medicinal Chemistry and Pharmacognosy.

Ohio University, Heritage College of Osteopathic Medicine

Summer Scholars

- Mar 1 While the program is designed to benefit rising college seniors, college juniors and college graduates may also be considered. Programs is for disadvantaged students (economic or educational). Students will be considered educationally disadvantaged if neither parent has completed a bachelors degree or higher. Applicants also belong to racial or ethnic populations who are underrepresented in the designated health profession discipline relative to the number of individuals who are members of the population involved. This definition would include Black or African American, American Indian or Alaskan Native, Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander, Hispanic or Latino, and any Asian American other than Chinese, Filipino, Japanese, Korean, Asian Indian or Thai.

National Institutes of Health (NIH) — Training Programs in the Biomedical Sciences

Summer Internship Program (SIP) in Biomedical Research

- Mar 1 SIP is for students who are at least sixteen years of age or older at the time they begin the program. To be eligible, candidates must be U.S. citizens or permanent residents. U.S. citizens are eligible to apply if they are enrolled at least half-time in high school or an accredited college or university as undergraduate, graduate, or professional students. Students who have been accepted into an accredited college or university program may also apply.

Summer Medical and Dental Education Program — Sites

Summer Medical and Dental Education Program

- Mar 1 The SMDEP program offers students a variety of academic and career experiences that will support their dental and medical school career preparation. All the housing costs and most meals are covered by the program.

Loyola University Health Sciences, Department of Molecular Pharmacology and Experimental Therapeutics

Discover Pharmacology Program

- Mar 6 Applications for the fellowship award are open to undergraduate students who intend to pursue a career in research. It seeks motivated students who have finished their sophomore or junior year in college, or those who have recently graduated from college and are exploring research as a career choice. Minority students are especially encouraged to apply.

New York University (NYU), Center for Neural Science

Summer Undergraduate Research Program (SURP)

- Apr 15 The Center for Neural Science hosts a summer research experience program for undergraduates with an interest in neuroscience. This program is designed to foster entry into a neuroscience research-centered career. Applicants must be undergraduates completing their sophomore or junior year and with at least one course completed in the field of neuroscience. Priority will be given to students with minority cultural, racial or ethnic background or with demonstrable financial need or of the first generation to attend college.

The University of Texas, MD Anderson Cancer Center — CPRIT Training Program

MD Anderson Cancer Center & University of Puerto Rico Summer Research Program

- Jan 16 The Partnership Summer Research Program offers college and medical trainees from the University of Puerto Rico System an opportunity to explore biomedical research as it relates to cancer, to gain firsthand experiences and mentorship in basic, clinical or translational research alongside world-renowned faculty, as well as to attend targeted institutional lectures and seminars. Trainees actively participate in the technical aspects of their projects, interpret experimental data, as well as present findings. Return visits are offered to trainees demonstrating a sincere interest in biomedical research and outstanding research ability during their visit.

CPRIT Summer Undergraduate Program

Jan 18 The Cancer Prevention & Research Institute of Texas (CPRIT) Summer Undergraduate Research program is a ten-week research program designed for outstanding undergraduate students who are interested in pursuing a career in cancer research. Students will be given hands-on research training in cutting-edge labs, interact with faculty, postdoctoral fellows and graduate students, attend weekly events, lectures and seminars and the opportunity to present their work at a poster session at the end of the ten-week program.

MD Anderson Summer Experience

Jan 16 The MD Anderson Summer Experience is offered for high school seniors, college, graduate and medical students who are interested in exploring a career in cancer research. Ten paid weeks of research in a broad range of areas of cancer biology, medicine, and prevention.

California Institute of Technology — Student/Faculty Programs

WAVE Fellows

Jan 7 WAVE Fellows must be current sophomores, juniors, or non-graduating seniors. Caltech's WAVE Fellows program aims to foster diversity by increasing the participation of underrepresented students in science and engineering Ph.D. programs and making Caltech's programs more visible and accessible to students not traditionally exposed to Caltech. The program is extended, but not limited, to underrepresented minorities, women, first-generation college students, geographically underrepresented students, and educationally and financially disadvantaged students.

Baylor College of Medicine — Financial Aid

Summer Medical and Research Training Program \(SMART\)

Jan 10 The Summer Medical and Research Training Program is for undergraduate students who are interested in exploring a career in scientific research. We encourage Ph.D.-oriented candidates to apply. Students are recruited for the SMART Program from across the nation. The program offers nine paid weeks of biomedically related research in a broad range of areas.

Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory — Education

Undergraduate Research Program \(URP\)

Jan 15 URP provides one of the few places where young people are instructed in the techniques of modern biology while becoming integrated members of a vibrant scientific community. Each year, approximately 25 students from around the world are accepted to the fully subsidized, 10-week summer program to work with senior Laboratory staff members on independent research projects in cancer biology, neuroscience, plant biology, cellular and molecular biology, genetics, and bioinformatics and genomics.

Howard Hughes Medical Institute \(HHMI\), Janelia Farm Research Campus — Student Programs

Janelia Undergraduate Summer Scholars

Jan 15 Janelia Undergraduate Scholars are among the very best future scientists, engineers, and mathematicians who are interested in exploring basic neuroscience, imaging technology, and related fields of research at Janelia. Any student who is enrolled in an undergraduate program may apply. Seniors are eligible to apply only if they are not committed to or planning to enroll in a graduate program in the upcoming academic year.

Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center — Education & Training

Summer Undergraduate Research Program \(SURP\)

Jan 16 SURP is an intensive, nine-week internship designed to provide research experience and mentorship for undergraduate students who are interested in biomedical research. Under the guidance of a faculty mentor, students will complete an independent research project and present their findings at a competitive poster session. Students will be paired with a faculty mentor after selecting one of the following areas of interest. Basic Science: Conducts structural, genetic, molecular, cellular, developmental and evolutionary biology; Human Biology: Interdisciplinary research; conducts lab-based and computational research at the interface of basic, clinical and population sciences; Public Health: Uses large populations as a "laboratory" to look for links between cancer and its possible triggers, from diet and lifestyle to environmental and genetic factors. Conducts statistical, epidemiological and prevention studies around the world; Clinical Research: Works to develop and analyze new treatments for cancers and other Diseases; and Vaccine and Infectious Disease: Integrates computational, laboratory and clinical research method to advance the understanding of microbial pathogenesis and infectious disease processes.

Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowship \(SURF\)

Jan 9 College sophomores and juniors are eligible to spend 10 weeks during the summer in a Rockefeller University laboratory. SURF students work with leading scientists in a broad range of areas including biochemistry; structural biology and chemistry; molecular, cell and developmental biology; immunology; virology and microbiology; neuroscience; physics; and mathematical biology.

The Gloria Barron Prize for Young Heroes

Each year, the Barron Prize honors twenty-five outstanding young leaders ages 8 to 18 who have made a significant positive difference to people and our environment. The top ten winners each receive a $5,000 cash award to support their service work or higher education. The primary goal of the Prize is to shine the spotlight on these amazing young people so that their stories will inspire others. Winners of the Barron Prize receive: $5,000 to be applied to their higher education or to their service project; a recognition plaque; a certificate of recognition; a signed copy of The Hero's Trail, by Barron Prize founder T.A. Barron; copy of Dream Big, our documentary film featuring several Barron Prize winners; a heroes study guide, curriculum, and bibliography; the opportunity to be paired with an adult mentor who is passionate about and working in the winner's area of interest; the opportunity to connect with other Barron Prize winners through the Young Heroes Listserv; numerous media opportunities – print, television, and radio.

Federal Grants, Student Loans, And Other Sources Of Student Aid

- Pell Grant (Eligibility: Financial Need; Maximum amount for 2017-2018 school year: $5,902/year)
- Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG) Eligibility: Financial Need; $100-$500/year <http://www2.ed.gov/programs/fseog/index.html>
- Academic Competitiveness Grant (ACG) (Eligibility: Financial Need; Amount varies)
- Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education (TEACH) Grant
The Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education (TEACH) Grant Program provides you with up to $4,000 a year in grant assistance if you are completing or plan to complete course work needed to begin a career in teaching.

As a condition for receiving a TEACH Grant, you must sign an Agreement to Serve promising to teach full-time in a high-need field at a low-income school or educational service agency, or teach at certain low-income schools and within certain high-need fields for at least four complete academic years within eight years after completing (or ceasing enrollment in) the course of study for which you received the grant.

If you do not complete your teaching service obligation, the amounts of the TEACH Grants you received will be converted to a Direct Unsubsidized Loan that you must repay with interest charged from the date of each TEACH Grant disbursement.

- Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grant
If you are not eligible for a Pell Grant but your parent or guardian was a member of the U.S. armed forces and died as a result of service performed in Iraq or Afghanistan after Sept. 11, 2001, you may be eligible for this grant. To receive the grant, you must be under 24 years old or enrolled in college, at least part-time, at the time of your parent's or guardian's death. The amount of the grant will be equal to the maximum Pell Grant for the award year, although the amount will not exceed the cost of attendance for that award year.

Student Loans

- Federal Stafford Loans
Subsidized: The government pays the interest while the student is in school.
Unsubsidized: The student pays the interest while in school.
Limits:
First year in school ($3,500 subsidized/$2,000 unsubsidized)
Second year ($4,500 subsidized/$2,000 unsubsidized)
Third year and following ($5,500 subsidized/$2,000 unsubsidized)
- Parent Plus Loans
Federal loans available to parents of dependent, undergraduate students to fund a child's college education. Eligibility is based on credit history, not financial need, and parents may borrow as much as needed.

Other Sources of Financial Aid

- Tuition Tax Credits—a dollar-for-dollar reduction of federal income taxes to help toward the cost of higher education
- Hope Tax Credits—for first and second year students enrolled at least half-time; up to $2,500 per student
- Lifetime Learning Tax Credit—equal to 20% of a family's tuition expenses, with a maximum of $2,000 in tax credits on the first $10,000 of college tuition expenses for virtually any postsecondary education and training (even less than half-time study)
- Student Loan Interest Deduction—a long-term savings account parents can take out for a child's college education; this money is not taxed

When federal loans are not enough to finance your education, choose a responsible private loan.

The Smart Option Student Loan:

- Defer your payments until after school or pay as much as you want while in school¹
- Get competitive variable interest rates that range from 3.17% APR–9.37% APR¹
- Pay no origination fees
- Prepay your loan at any time with no penalty
- Borrow up to 100% of your school-certified cost of attendance²

Bob Jones University Grants And Scholarships

- ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE SCHOLARSHIP
ACT 31+: $10,000
ACT 27+: $5,500
ACT 24+: $4,500
- MINISTRY SCHOLARSHIP
$2,000 (at least one parent in full-time ministry)
- LEGACY SCHOLARSHIP
$500 per alumni parent
- FOUNDER'S GRANT AND FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE SCHOLARSHIP
Amounts vary based on financial need (requires a FAFSA)

SCHOLARSHIPS BY MAJORS

All students in these majors are automatically considered for the following scholarships. No scholarship application is necessary.

BUSINESS

- Business Scholarship
Student must be enrolled in a major in the School of Business, demonstrate academic achievement and spiritual leadership, must be a work student, and demonstrate financial need.
Amount of scholarship – 3-5 scholarships at $1,000-$1,500

Surviving Those Financial Aid Forms

To apply for federal student aid, all post-secondary schools and colleges will require you to fill out the U. S. Department of Education's Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). In addition, some institutions will require you to complete the College Scholarship Service's PROFILE form, for which there is a fee. These forms are available through college financial offices or from your high school guidance counselor's office.

To apply for a Stafford Loan, you may need to complete yet another form that you can get from a bank or savings-and-loan institution after the student has been accepted at a school.

Before you do battle with these forms, pay attention to these helpful hints:

1. Apply early. Aid is often distributed on a first-come, first-served basis.
2. Follow directions exactly. If you don't, your form will be returned to you for clarification.
3. You should have on hand tax and financial information for the year preceding the one in which the student will start college. In other words, if the student will be a college freshman next fall, you'll need copies of your family's federal, state and local income tax returns for the current year. That means you should try to do your income taxes earlier than usual—January is best.
4. For income reporting, take the adjusted gross income from your family's federal tax return. The FAFSA will tell you which tax year information to report.
5. Round off numbers to the nearest dollar.
6. Complete the entire financial aid form. Computers will reject incomplete forms, delaying your request for aid.
7. There is no fee for applying for federal aid. Remember to enclose the processing fee if the institution requires one and if you are using the CSS PROFILE form
8. Remember to sign the application! Both student and parent(s) should sign.

Scholarship Scams

It's no wonder that students and parents are so eager to find these sources of funding that they don't have to pay back, but this makes them easy targets for financial aid con artists. Scholarship scams have been around for years. Hundreds of thousands of people are cheated by scholarship scams each year, losing tens of millions of dollars. According to the Federal Trade Commission, if you hear these lines from a scholarship service, you may be getting duped:

“The scholarship is guaranteed or your money back.”

No one can guarantee that they’ll get you a grant or a scholarship. Refund guarantees often have conditions or strings attached. Get refund policies in writing and read the fine print before you go any further.

“You can’t get this information anywhere else.”

You can tell from the preceding information that there are thousands of scholarships that you can research through free means. It’s highly doubtful that a company would have an exclusive list of scholarships that you can’t find through another source.

Don’t give your credit card or bank account number without getting information in writing first. Be very cautious about any company that would ask for it. It may be the setup for an unauthorized withdrawal from your account.

“We’ll do all the work.”

Don’t be fooled. There’s no way around it. You must apply for scholarships or grants yourself.

“The scholarship will cost money.”

Don’t pay anyone who claims to be “holding” a scholarship or grant for you.

“You’ve been selected” by a “national foundation” to receive a scholarship or “you’re a finalist” in a contest you never entered.

Before you reply to a scholarship offer you didn’t initiate, check it out. Make sure the foundation or program is legitimate.

What to Do if You Suspect an Offer Is a Scam

Start with your school counselor. He or she may have information about well-known scams. Also, the following organizations can help you decide if an offer is legitimate. They will tell you whether they have received any complaints about the company, or whether the company is currently under investigation. Look for these organizations online or call for more information.

- Better Business Bureau (BBB) in the city where the scholarship service is located
- Federal Trade Commission 877 FTC-HELP www.ftc.gov/scholarshipscams
- State Bureau of Consumer Protection
- State Attorney General’s Office
- National Fraud Information Center (NFIC) www.fraud.org

Know How To Spot Scholarship Scams

The vast majority of private scholarships offered to high school students are legitimate, but every year, experts say, a few scams sneak into the pack

Tips for spotting scam scholarships are offered on the website of the National Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators (www.finaid.org), operated by Mark Kantrowitz of Carnegie Mellon University.

Here, from Kantrowitz’s list, are some likely signals you’re looking at a scam:

- Guaranteed winnings. No legitimate scholarship will tell you in advance that you have won.
- Everybody is eligible. “Scholarship sponsors do not hand out awards to students simply for breathing,” says Kantrowitz.
- No phone number. Most legitimate scholarship programs will give you a phone number on their forms. If there is no phone number, be wary.

- Requests for personal information. If an application asks for your bank account number, credit card number, or Social Security number, run away from it fast.
- Phone notification. If you are told by phone you have won a scholarship, and the caller doesn't offer to confirm in writing, be careful. If the caller asks for money, hang up.

Kantrowitz's website also has links to scholarship search services that cost nothing. One of the free search services, www.fastweb.com, is updated with new scholarships, sometimes daily.

Financial Aid Crash Course: The Types of Federal Aid

If you're beginning the task of applying for financial aid, or are still puzzling over your FAFSA form, you may be confused as to what kind of loans and grants are available from Uncle Sam (as in the federal government, not your wacky relative). Consider this quick reference page a crash course in Federal Government Financial Aid 101.

Stafford Loans

Many students receive Stafford loans, which can be from the U.S. Government (called a "Federal Direct Student Loan") or from a private lender (called a "Federal Family Education Loan"). Whether your loan is directly from the government or from a government-backed bank depends on the school you attend. In either case, the eligibility requirements and loan limits are the same: If you're a dependent undergraduate student, you can borrow $5,500 your freshman year, $6,500 your sophomore year, and $7,500 for each remaining (full) year of your program. Graduate students can borrow even more—up to $20,500 per year.

Additionally, Stafford loans come in two distinct flavors: Subsidized or unsubsidized. Students with financial need may qualify for subsidized Stafford loans, which do not charge interest while you are in school or during deferment (such as if you later enroll in graduate school). Students who don't qualify for a subsidized Stafford loan can still get the unsubsidized version, but interest will continue to accumulate while they are in school, in their grace period, or in deferment.

Parent Loans for Undergraduate Students (PLUS Loans)

Unlike Stafford loans—in which students themselves assume the loan—PLUS loans allow parents with acceptable credit histories to borrow educational funds on behalf of their children (if their children are enrolled at least half-time). PLUS loans are available both through the U.S. Government and through private lenders, and the eligibility requirements and loan limits are about the same. To be eligible, parents must be U.S. citizens, pass a credit check (although one that is generally much less stringent than required for a home mortgage), and not currently be in default of any of their existing loans. PLUS loans can cover up to the amount of your tuition bill that is left after any other financial aid has been subtracted from your total cost of attendance. (For example, if your college costs total $10,000 and you receive $6,000 in financial aid, you could assume a PLUS loan of $4,000.) PLUS loan payments are sent directly to your college, and unlike other federal loans, your parents must begin paying both the interest and the principal amount of the loan while you're still in school.

Federal Pell Grants

Unlike a loan, Federal Pell Grants do not have to be repaid (woo-hoo!). Students with a very high level of financial need qualify for this type of aid, which is awarded only to undergraduate students. Pell Grant award amounts can vary depending on the availability of funds and also your tuition costs, with a maximum award of $5,550 per year. To qualify for a Pell Grant, it makes no difference if you're enrolled full-time or half-time...you're still eligible. You can thank Senator Claiborne Pell for this one.

Federal Perkins Loans

Perkins Loans are low-interest loans awarded through your university with government funds. Because funds for this program are partially derived from prior loan repayments, schools with low student default rates usually have the most Perkins loans available. Undergraduate and graduate students with financial need are eligible for the loans, which award varying amounts to students based on their individual need. Undergraduates can borrow up to $4,000 per year while graduate students can borrow up to $6,000. The payments will be made to you directly, or as a credit to your account. The interest rate on Federal Perkins loans is fixed at 5 percent, and interest doesn't accrue while you are in school.

Making the Most Out of Your Database Search

In order to get the best results possible when using online scholarship search databases, you need to follow a systematic strategy. Here are some important techniques to remember when conducting your own Internet database search.

Explore As Many Databases As You Can

Scholarship databases are a lot like Lay's potato chips—betcha can't search just one! Quite simply, there are too many scholarships out there for any one database to be considered comprehensive. Since each database may use different methods for gathering their scholarship information, each database in turn has access to a different portion of the scholarship landscape—a fact you can definitely use to your advantage.

Be Overly Precise

Remember, you are much smarter than the computer database. For this reason, if you indicate on your database questionnaire that you are a skilled trumpet player, your search results may include only those scholarships directly related to the trumpet. This is because database-matching systems are not smart enough to realize that playing the trumpet is a subcategory of both band class and music. To combat this problem, check the band and music boxes in addition to the trumpet box.

Use the Same Questionnaire Several Times

Some databases will not allow you to select as many items as you'd like in a given category (sometimes as few as two or three). To work around this problem, conduct several searches in the same database and vary the information you include each time around. If the database doesn't allow you to vary your personal information, you can even register under a new name with new information.

Ask to Include Every Scholarship

Some databases will ask you if you'd like to eliminate from your search the scholarships whose dates have already passed. Although it may seem more convenient, it is generally not a good idea to do this because application deadlines often change, listings can be outdated, or the database may have the wrong deadline altogether. And even if the deadline has passed, you'll still want to know what future awards you can begin preparing for.

Take Your Time, But Not Too Much Time

Most database questionnaires need to be completed in one sitting. If you allow too much time to pass between entries (such as leaving your computer to answer the phone), you may lose valuable information you've already entered.

Perform Generic Searches In Addition to Specific Ones

While specifying a lot of very specific information can often point you to scholarships designed for a specialized area of interest, doing so can also cause some databases to omit widely accessible scholarship programs—the ones for which the majority of students are eligible to apply. So don't forget to perform fairly generic database searches as well (in which you specify minimal information about yourself).

Maximizing Your Summer For Scholarship Success

The wonderful months of summer can provide a much needed break from the hustle and bustle of the school year, and from your scholarship search. But while you might go to Hawaii or Disneyland, summer is no time for a scholarship vacation! On the contrary, the summer is a terrific time to hone your scholarship appeal without having to worry much about the pressures of deadlines and applications. How do you fine tune your record? By starting with your strengths, of course.

The term "content" refers to the raw ingredients of a scholarship application: all of the activities, awards, achievements, experiences, and credentials that are detailed in the application itself. Content strategies, therefore, encompass the tactical techniques we use to improve our records in key areas, thereby enhancing how our overall scholarship resumes are perceived. And with summer finally here, it's the perfect time to get going on these content strategies right away.

Content Strategy #1: Expand upon your strong points

At first glance, adding content in areas you're already good at may seem counterintuitive. If you already excel at something, why do you need to add to your record in that area? Well, the answer is that we want to take your strongest skills, and transform them into truly standout talents that get you noticed by scholarship judges. In this way, expanding your strong points adds depth to your application self-portrait. (See Chapter 7 of my book, How To Go To College Almost For Free, for more on how content strategies mesh with your overall application theme.)

What are some ways to employ this strategy during summer break?

- Use jobs as learning experiences. Try contacting some organizations, professors, or professionals in an area that you're good at or interested in and inquire about any job or internship possibilities. What if they don't have such a program? Well, suggest they create a position just for you. Many such individuals would love to serve as mentors. The best jobs and internships I've ever had were the ones I effectively created for myself.
- Devise your own project. Summer is a great time to pursue an independent project that extends your skills. One science-minded scholarship winner from Alaska I interviewed for my book used the summer to pursue his own science project on the Exxon Valdez oil spill. Another artistic scholarship winner painted murals on old buildings to spruce up the community.
- Leverage your other summer activities. For those students traveling over the summer, turn your trip into scholarship gold. One scholarship winner I interviewed transformed a summer trip to Europe into a scholarship-enhancing endeavor simply by keeping a journal of the trip and turning it into an independent study paper on cultural differences.

In general, the summer is a great time to sharpen your scholarship image; when else will you have three months out of the year to focus entirely on yourself? So get out your pencil and paper, grab a nice spot in the shade, and start thinking about your strong points...and how you can make them even stronger. And hey, don't forget your shades.

Start Your Scholarship Search Today!

It's never too late to start searching for scholarships. It's also never too early! While a surprising number of scholarships are targeted at high school students, there is a sizable array of scholarships that students as young as sixth grade (and sometimes even younger) can apply for today.

Starting early allows students to prepare and better position themselves for scholarship success in later years. For example, if you've been thinking about joining a club or trying a new extracurricular activity, there's no time like the present. And remember, your scholarship search need not stop when you graduate from high school—there are hundreds (if not thousands!) of scholarship programs aimed at students already enrolled in college.

As you build up your list of scholarship opportunities, plan to apply early for as many of these opportunities as possible. Contest judging is far from an exact science, and you can enhance chances to win by submitting numerous applications.

Don't neglect the small, local scholarships either--the money could help cover the cost of textbooks for a term, and it's not unheard of to find local scholarships in which you're the only applicant!

You should also start requesting scholarship applications for programs you hope to apply for in later years. Pay special attention to the kinds of questions that will be asked of you down the road. Bottom line—if you work hard enough and start early enough, nothing can stand in the way of your eventual scholarship success.

If the Coach himself had it to do all over, he would have started applying as early as seventh or eighth grade! Many scholarships for middle-school students are project-oriented, rather than achievement-oriented, meaning that they reward students for things they've made and created, rather than what they've done. A few good examples of these are:

- The Craftsman/NSTA Young Inventors Awards Competition: Students in grades 2-8 submit inventor's logs and pictures of an invention or modification of a tool.
- Toshiba/NSTA Exploravision: Students in grades K-12 submit futuristic ideas for scientific advancement.
- Optimist International Oratorical Contest: Students under age 16 write and memorize speeches on specified topics.

By starting the search for scholarship early on, students can better position themselves for scholarship success, and ultimately afford the college of their choice.

The Art of Scholarship Recycling

In the wonderful world of scholarships, there are two kinds of scholarship seekers. The run-of-the-mill scholarship seeker uses each essay response only one time, and wastes valuable hours coming up with new ones for each scholarship application. These types of seekers don't spend much time thinking ahead about what could be on future applications, and instead spend too much time racking their brains for answers and inspiration just minutes before deadline time. The worst trait of such students is that they never keep any of their application materials.

Then there is another breed of scholarship seeker—someone who is savvy beyond compare: This type of scholarship hopeful knows the value of creating a suite of generic reusable materials that can later save massive amounts of time and energy. The good news is, whether you're already a savvy seeker, or may have already committed one of the ill-advised acts we just mentioned, there is a lot you can do to decrease your workload while increasing your potential for winning college cash.

When applying for large numbers of scholarships, creating a suite of generic reusable materials saves a great deal of time and energy. By having this suite to draw from, you will be able to focus less on just completing application requirements, and more time on customizing and fine-tuning the material you've already prepared.

More than just a reduction in your workload, reusing and rethinking old materials can mean vast improvements as you repeatedly refine and edit the same work. By employing this strategy, you gain the opportunity to fine-tune your materials with every submission. And take it from me—your tenth draft will be far better than your first.

Creating your own scholarship "suite"

To create this suite of generic materials, first seek to develop standard essay responses to perennial scholarship application themes—such old favorites as college plans, career goals, and future contributions to society. Survey the scholarship's landscape and isolate common themes and requirements (whether it is a similar essay question or a comparable extracurricular activity worksheet). Attempt to bridge multiple applications with every sentence you write or form you prepare.

In addition, go back into your archive of old scholarship applications (you'll develop one quickly) and try to recycle essays and other past materials. Don't just recopy such passages verbatim; instead, try to rethink, improve, and hone everything to fit the criteria of each new contest.

Unlocking the Secret World of Online Search Databases

In order to begin successfully using Internet scholarship databases, it is important to know how to maximize their strengths and minimize their weaknesses. Let's start with the basics, shall we?

Scholarship databases are basically collections of college cash awards organized in a way that allows you to easily search and find them. These databases are designed to streamline your search by centralizing information about thousands of scholarships all in one place.

These databases are commonly misused, however, simply because most people don't fully understand how they function. To complicate the issue even further, more and more of these databases have sprung up all over the Internet, each one claiming to have "the most scholarships" or the "highest dollar value of awards." It's no wonder, then, that using these databases can be frustrating, to say the least.

But it doesn't have to be this way. Think of each scholarship database as being divided into two basic parts. One part is the information itself, which includes the name of the scholarship award and hopefully a general description of the judging criteria, a list of contact information, and a summary of who can win the award. The second part is the search mechanism—the system that uses the information you provide to help you find scholarship listings pertinent to your interests. Let's take a look at these search mechanisms in greater depth.

Internet scholarship databases, by and large, use one or two different search mechanisms to find scholarships that fit your interests: matching systems and browsing systems. A matching system provides you with a questionnaire that asks you to supply information relevant to your scholarship eligibility (like age, gender, and GPA), while a browsing system requires you to sift through categories of scholarships that might interest you.

Each system has obvious advantages and disadvantages. On the plus side, a matching system saves you time by showing you only the scholarship listings pertinent to the information you entered. On the other hand, because you only see the scholarship listings the systems says fit your profile, you do not know what scholarships could be missing.

The strength of a browsing system is that by sorting through several scholarship categories yourself, you are able to get a good feel for the scholarships in the database. On the flip side, however, browsing systems can suck up a lot of valuable time, energy, and concentration, since it's easy to be overwhelmed and confused by the sheer number of awards.

Using the Summer to Iron Out Scholarship Wrinkles

In Part I of our strategy building series, we examined how you can use the summer months to further develop your strong points. However, while the summer is a perfect opportunity to focus on the positive, it's also a time to begin developing areas that aren't quite so strong. When applying for scholarships, it's important to come across as well-rounded. Although your application spotlight should be shining on your strongest areas, you will also want to include activities, achievements, and other credentials that demonstrate a wide range of exploration.

To implement this strategy, try to participate in activities that fill in any glaring gaps in your record, and that help you become more well-rounded. For example, in my high school record, a high percentage of my most compelling achievements had clearly involved fields related to the arts and humanities. To emphasize that I wasn't just a one-dimensional student, I joined my high school's science club and competed on the Science Olympics and math teams. This participation demonstrated my quantitative skills--a range of abilities that I didn't often have the opportunity to exhibit in other extracurriculars. Not only did this benefit my scholarship applications (and college applications, too), but it also improved my math and science skills on the side. What are some great summer activities to shore up common weak spots?

- Serve your community. Many students have told me that they just don't have enough time to do community service work. Well, why not devote some extra summer hours to a worthy cause? Pick a cause you're interested in, and join an existing program or create your own. If you're someone who can't get enough of the summer sun, find a community service endeavor that gets you outdoors.
- Take a summer course. School in the summer may sound like a major drag, but taking one course at a local community college isn't a big deal. Pick a subject that you've struggled with in school, and use the summer course as an opportunity to demonstrate your competence.
- Explore old subjects in new settings. Sometimes subject areas that seem dull or difficult in the school environment aren't so bad once you get out of the classroom. Look to participate in programs, camps, clubs, activities, workshops, and conferences that enhance your exploration of subjects you've shied away from in the past. In general, look for activities in which you get to explore something you're curious about, try something you're unfamiliar with, and meet new and interesting people.

All of these experiences can also provide you with great raw material for those upcoming scholarship essays. These strategies I've briefly outlined, of course, are not only useful during the summer months, but also during the regular school year. However, if you utilize just a small portion of those lazy, hazy, crazy days of summer to pursuing these worthwhile goals, you'll be way ahead when the back-to-school regimen starts up once again.

Twenty Things You Need to Know About Financing College

It's important to make an informed decision about an institution of higher education. We recommend using the following three phases together, as a whole, to arrive at the best possible decision.

Phase 1: Applying to College

Once the student's academic and social interests and objectives have been matched with appropriate institutions, the student might need to consider financial assistance. College admission and financial aid advisers should be prepared to provide the following information:

1. What are the average costs for tuition and fees, books and supplies, room and board, transportation, and other personal expenses for the first year? What are the ranges of room (single, double) costs, board costs (21 meals?), and special tuition rates (flat rate for 15-18 credits, etc.)? By how much will total costs increase each year? (A three- to five-year printed history of tuition and fee increases as well as room and board increases should be available.)
2. Does financial need have an impact on admission decisions?
3. Does the decision to apply for early admission affect financial aid?
4. Does the institution offer financial aid programs as well as merit or other scholarships that do not include consideration of financial need? How and when should applications for need-based and merit aid be completed?
5. What non-institutional sources of aid and information are available? (Check with the financial aid office regarding fee-based sources.)
6. What application forms are required to complete the financial aid process? What is the priority deadline for applying for financial aid? When will the student be notified about financial aid decisions?

Phase 2: Choosing a College

During this phase, the student chooses the college with the best academic, social, and financial fit. To make this decision, college financial aid offices should supply the following information:

7. How much financial aid will the student receive? Will he or she be billed for his or her share of the costs? Are there any other costs not accounted for in the aid offer that the student should plan for, such as expenses for books, room and board, transportation, or personal needs?
8. If the student and/or the student's family cannot meet the financial responsibilities from current income or assets, what financing options are available to help them pay their share?
9. Will the financial aid office provide each student with an explanation of how his or her expected family contribution, financial need, and award package was determined?
10. If the financial aid award package is insufficient to make it possible for the student to attend this institution, under what conditions, if any, will the aid office reconsider its offer?
11. What are the terms and conditions of the aid programs included in the student's award package (e.g., treatment of outside scholarships, loan repayment policies, renewal criteria, etc.)? Regarding renewal, what are the academic requirements or other conditions for the renewal of financial aid, including scholarships?
12. How will the student's aid package change from year to year? Will loan amounts increase? What impact will cost increases have on the aid package? What will happen if the student's financial situation changes? What will happen if the student's or another family member's enrollment status changes?

13. What amount of student loan debt does your typical student borrower have once he or she finishes college?

Phase 3: Before Leaving Home

By the end of this phase, the student should be clear about his or her financial obligations to the college of his or her choice and how to meet those obligations. The financial aid and/or business office of the student's chosen college should be helpful in answering the following questions:

14. When can the student/family expect to receive bills from the college? How many times a year will they be billed? If the bill is not paid by the deadline, will there be penalties? Does the college accept payment by credit card? Is there an option to pay monthly?

15. Is all financial aid credited to the student's account, or will the student receive checks for some or all of the financial aid awarded? What about student employment earnings? If aid exceeds billed charges, how does the student receive the funds?

16. How much money will the student need during the first week of school for things such as books, a parking permit, etc.? Can the student use financial aid to pay for books and supplies? Can books and supplies be charged to the student's account? What typical out-of-pocket expenses do most students have during the year?

17. Is information provided to students regarding budgeting resources, money management, and credit card usage?

18. Are there banking services with fee-free ATMs and/or check cashing on or near campus? Does the campus have a debit card?

19. Will the college be responsive to midyear changes in family financial situations?

20. Regarding student employment, including federal work-study: How are jobs assigned? How many hours per week will a student be expected to or allowed to work? How often and in what manner will the student receive earnings payments? Will earnings be automatically credited to the student's account?

The Six Most Common Blunders of College Applicants

Advice from Jeremy Spencer, Former Director of Admissions at Alfred University

By Allen Grove

I met with Jeremy Spencer, former Director of Admissions at Alfred University and asked him what he sees as the most common blunders made by college applicants. Below are six mistakes he encounters frequently.

1. Missing Deadlines

The college admissions process is filled with deadlines, and missing a deadline can mean a rejection letter or lost financial aid. A typical college applicant has dozens of dates to remember:

- Application deadlines which vary from school to school
- Early action and early decision deadlines, if applicable
- Institutional financial aid deadlines
- Federal financial aid deadlines
- State financial aid deadlines
- Scholarship deadlines

Realize that some colleges will accept applications after the deadline if they have not yet filled their new class. However, financial aid may be much harder to obtain late in the application process. (Learn more about senior year deadlines.)

2. Applying for Early Decision When It's Not the Right Choice

Students who apply to a college through Early Decision typically must sign a contract stating that they are applying to just the one college early. Early Decision is a restricted admissions process, so it is not a good choice for students who aren't really sure that the Early Decision school is their first choice. Some students apply through Early Decision because they think it will improve their chance of admission, but in the process they end up restricting their options. Also, if students violate their contract and apply to more than one college through Early Decision, they run the risk of being removed from the applicant pool for misleading the institution. While this is not the policy at Alfred University, some colleges share their Early Decision applicant lists to make sure students haven't applied to multiple schools through Early Decision. (Learn about the difference between early decision and early action.)

3. Using the Wrong College Name in an Application Essay

Understandably, many college applicants write a single admissions essay and then change the name of the college for different applications. Applicants need to make sure the college name is correct everywhere it appears. The admissions officers will not be impressed if an applicant begins by discussing how much she really wants to go to Alfred University, but the last sentence says, "R.I.T. is the best choice for me." Mail merge and global replace can't be relied on 100% -- applicants need to reread each application carefully, and they should have someone else proofread as well. (Learn more tips for the application essay.)

4. Applying to a College Online Without Telling School Counselors

The Common Application and other online options make it easier than ever to apply to colleges. Many students, however, make the mistake of submitting applications online without notifying their high school guidance counselors. Counselors play an important role in the application process, so leaving them out of the loop can lead to several problems:

- High school transcripts are delayed or never get mailed
- Letters of recommendation from teachers are delayed or never get sent
- The college admissions decision process becomes inefficient and delayed
- Applications end up being incomplete because the counselor can't follow up with the colleges

5. Waiting too Long to Ask for Letters of Recommendation

Applicants who wait until the last minute to ask for letters of recommendation run the risk that the letters will be late, or they will not be thorough and thoughtful. To get good letters of recommendation, applicants should identify teachers early, talk with them, and give them as much information as possible about each program to which they are applying. This allows teachers to craft letters that match an applicant's particular strengths with specific college programs. Letters written at the last minute rarely contain this type of useful specificity. (Learn more about getting good letters of recommendation.)

6. Failing to Limit Parents' Involvement

Students need to self-advocate during the admissions process. The college is admitting the student, not the student's mom or dad. It's the student who needs to build a relationship with the college, not the parents. Helicopter parents--those who constantly hover--end up doing a disservice to their children. Students need to manage their own affairs once they get to college, so the admissions staff wants to see evidence of this self-sufficiency during the application process. While parents should certainly be involved in the college admissions process, the student needs to make the connections with the school and complete the application.

Jeremy Spencer's Bio: Jeremy Spencer served as the Director of Admissions at Alfred University from 2005 to 2010. Prior to AU, Jeremy served as the Director of Admissions at Saint Joseph's College (IN) and various admissions level positions at Lycoming College (PA) and Miami University (OH). At Alfred, Jeremy was responsible for both the undergraduate and graduate admissions process and supervised 14 professional admissions staff. Jeremy earned his BA degree (Biology and Psychology) at Lycoming College and his MS degree (College Student Personnel) at Miami University.

010 College Interview Mistakes

Make Sure the Impression You Make is a Good One

By Allen Grove

Before you set foot in the interview room, make sure you have answers for these 12 common interview questions. Keep in mind that the college interview probably isn't the most important part of your application, but it can help you if you make a good impression. A bad impression can hurt your chances of getting accepted.

During the interview, DO NOT...

1. Be Late

Your interviewers are busy people. Alumni interviewers are probably taking time out of their full-time jobs to meet with you, and campus admissions folks often have back-to-back appointments scheduled. Lateness disrupts schedules and shows irresponsibility on your part.

2. Underdress

Business casual is your safest bet, but the main thing is to look neat and put-together. You'll look like you don't care if you show up wearing ripped jeans or saran wrap. These clothing tips for men and women can help.

3. Talk Too Little

Your interviewer wants to get to know you. If you answer every question with a "yes," "no," or a grunt, you're not impressing anyone, and you're not demonstrating that you can contribute to the intellectual life of the campus.

4. Make a Prepared Speech

You want to sound like yourself during your interview. If you have prepared answers to questions, you might come off sounding artificial and insincere.

5. Chew Gum

It's distracting and annoying.

6. Bring Your Parents

Your interviewer wants to get to know you, not your parents. Also, it's hard to look like you're mature enough for college if Dad is asking all the questions for you.

7. Show Disinterest

This should be a no-brainer, but you'd be surprised what some students will say. A comment like "you're my back-up school" or "I'm here because my parents told me to apply" is an easy way to lose points during the interview.

8. Fail to Research the College

If you ask questions that could easily be answered by the college's website, you'll send the message that you don't care enough about the school to do a little research. Ask questions that show you know the place: "I'm interested in your Honors Program; could you tell me more about it?"

9. Lie

This should be obvious, but some students do get themselves in trouble by fabricating half truths or exaggerating during the interview.

10. Be Rude

Good manners go a long way. Shake hands. Address your interviewer by name. Say "thank you." Introduce your parents if they are in the waiting area. Say "thank you" again. Send a thank you note.

Application Essays

Tips for Writing Your Way Into Your Top Choice School

By Allen Grove

Nearly all colleges rate application essays as either important or very important in their admissions process. A poorly executed essay can cause a stellar student to get rejected. On the flip side, exceptional application essays can help students with marginal scores get into the schools of their dreams. The tips below will help you win big with your essay. Also be sure to check out these tips for the five personal essay options on the Common Application, these nine tips for improving your essay's style, and the sample essays.

Avoid the List

Many college applicants make the mistake of trying to include all of their accomplishments and activities in their application essays. Such essays read like what they are: tedious lists. Other parts of the application provide plenty of space for you to list extracurricular activities, so save your lists for the places where they belong.

The most engaging and compelling essays tell a story and have a clear focus. Through carefully chosen detail, your writing should reveal your passions and expose your personality. A thoughtful and detailed narration of a difficult time in your life tells far more about you than a list of competitions won and honors achieved. Your grades and scores show that you're smart. Use your essay to show that you're thoughtful and mature, that your personality has depth.

A Touch of Humor (but just a touch)

While it's important to be thoughtful and mature, you don't want your college application essay to be too heavy. Try to lighten up the essay with a clever metaphor, a well-placed witticism, or a little self-deprecating humor. But don't overdo it. The essay that is filled with bad puns or off-color jokes will often end up in the rejection pile. Also, humor isn't a substitute for substance. Your primary task is to answer the essay prompt thoughtfully; the smile you bring to your reader's lips is just a bonus (and a tear can sometimes be effective too). Many students have been rejected for failing to take the prompt seriously and writing essays that end up being more foolish than clever.

Tone, Tone, Tone

Not just humor, but the overall tone of your application essay is remarkably important. It's also difficult to get right. When you are asked to write about your accomplishments, those 750 words on how great you are can make you sound like a braggart. Be careful to balance your pride in your achievements with humility and generosity towards others. You also want to avoid sounding like a whiner -- use your essay to show off your skills, not to explain the injustices that lead to your low math score or failure to graduate #1 in your class.

Reveal Your Character

Along with the essay, most colleges rate "character and personal qualities" as extremely important in their admissions decisions. Your character shows up in three places on the application: the interview (if you have one), your involvement in extracurricular activities, and your essay. Of the three, the essay is the most immediate and illuminating to the admissions folks as they read through thousands of applications. Remember, colleges aren't looking solely for straight "A"s and high SAT scores. They are looking for good citizens for their campus communities.

Mechanics Matter

Grammatical problems, punctuation errors, and spelling mistakes can hurt your chance of being accepted. When excessive, these errors are distracting and make your application essay difficult to understand. Even a few errors, however, can be a strike against you. They show a lack of care and quality control in your written work, and your success in college partly depends upon strong writing skills.

If English isn't your greatest strength, seek help. Ask a favorite teacher to go over the essay with you, or find a friend with strong editorial skills. If you can't find expert help, there are many on-line essay services that can provide a careful critique of your writing.

What Is a Good SAT Score? A Bad SAT Score? An Excellent SAT Score?

SAT/ACT Score Target

What is a good SAT score? You took the SAT, got your scores back, and now you want to know how you did. Or maybe you just want to know what score to aim for next time. Here we answer that question for you quickly, and then dive in carefully to explain the answer. Importantly, we also give you a step-by-step guide to figuring out what SAT score YOU need, depending on the colleges you want to apply to.

Gain 160+ Points in a Week:

Read our Free eBook Now!

Note: the Old SAT was scored on the 2400 scale, but the New SAT is scored on the 1600 scale. Because most colleges will accept scores from both SATs for the Class of 2017, we'll cover both tests here.

What's a Good SAT Score, Compared to the Entire Country?

The short answer: for the New SAT (out of 1600), 1000 is considered an average score. Roughly half the students score higher than this threshold and the other half score below it.

For the Old SAT (out of 2400), 1500 is the national average score.

The top 25% of SAT takers score about 1200 or more (or 1800 on the Old SAT); if your New SAT score is above 1200, then that's quite good. Whether this is good enough to get into the colleges you care about is what we'll cover next.

The bottom 25% of SAT takers score 840 (or 1260 on the Old SAT); if you're scoring in that range, be careful! It may be hard for you to get into the college you want to attend.

Again, to reiterate:

	New SAT (of 1600)	Old SAT (of 2400)
Excellent (top 25%)	1200	1800
Good (Average)	1000	1500
Poor (lowest 25%)	840	1260

Here is the precise chart of percentiles, provided by the College Board.

The round number 1000 is not a coincidence. The SAT makers actually design the test so the overall average score is 1000, and the average score per section is 500.

Remember, the lowest you can score on the SAT is 400, and the highest you can score is 1600.

But wait - this is just the national average. Is the entire US population the exact right basis for finding what a good SAT score is? What if you're not an average American, but a football star, or an international student? Don't you want to define what a good SAT score is based on your personal potential?

If you agree, then you should read our guide to Defining what a Good SAT Score. We cover four different ways of defining what a good SAT score is.

One popular definition of a good SAT score must depend on what college you're aiming for. What you really care about is how good your SAT score is compared to the average score of students at schools that you're planning to apply to. If you don't get a score above your target score, you may find it hard to get into the colleges you're looking for.

Keep reading for our step-by-step guide to figuring out what a good SAT score for YOU is, in just 10 minutes.

What's a Good SAT Score for YOU Specifically?

By now, you already know that your SAT score is vital for getting into college. This leads most people to this important question: how high does YOUR SAT score need to be to get into YOUR favorite colleges?

Having a concrete target SAT score is really important. It gives us a goal to aim for and helps us track our progress during our study time.

Your score target needs to be different from everyone else's, because you have different goals from theirs. You need your own score target to aim for, based on data about colleges.

You are NOT aiming for what your parents think you should get. You are NOT aiming for what your friends think you should get.

There is a mathematical way to determine the target score you should be aiming for.

Step 1: Download This Worksheet

Step 4: Calculate the New SAT Score Out of 1600

Because you're taking the new SAT out of 1600, you need to convert the 2400 score to the 1600 scale in the right-most column.

Use our converter tool, which is based on official concordance tables from the College Board.

For U Alabama, this tool gives a new SAT goal score of 1320.

Step 5: Calculate Your Final SAT Target Score

Finally, take the average of all columns - 25th percentile and 75th percentile.

I highly recommend that your personal target score be the average 75th percentile score for all your schools that you just calculated. If you achieve this score, you'll have a very strong shot at getting into all the schools you listed.

For you, this is what a "good SAT score" is. This is your special number - not your friends', and not your parents'. If you get this number, you will almost certainly get into at least one of the colleges on your list.

Finally, you should have a target for what your score for each section should be. My suggestion would be to just divide your target score by 2. If you're applying to engineering schools, try to aim for your Math score to be 50 points higher than the others. If you're applying for a humanities program, your Math score can be a little bit lower than your Reading and Writing score.

Here's an example sheet I filled out:

SAT Score Target Worksheet

School Name	25 th Percentile (of 2400)	75 th Percentile (of 2400)	75 th Percentile (of 1600)
U of Alabama	1490	1870	1250
Georgia Southern	1510	1740	1160
Samford University	1540	1880	1250
UC Santa Barbara	1640	1990	1330
Average	1540	1870	1250

My SAT Score Target

Total Score: 1250

(we recommend you use the average 75th percentile score out of 1600 calculated above)

Math: 630 Reading/Writing: 620

Step 6: Make Your Goal Known

Once you've finished your worksheet, I recommend you do two things:

1. Share it with your parents. This will get everyone on the same page on what SAT score you're aiming for and what kinds of colleges you're looking at. Plus, they'll be impressed that you're taking the initiative to set your own goals.
2. Tape it to your wall. I want you to think about your score target every time you study. This is your goal, and you're going to meet it.

Don't get stressed out by this score target. You can reach it. Every single student I've worked with has met his or her score target if she put in serious effort to study.

A college degree can open doors, but finding the money to get one can mean knocking on a bunch first.

The average annual cost to attend a four-year public college is $8,244, says College Board. For out-of-state students, that number more than doubles ($20,770) – and for private schools, it triples ($28,500). And that’s just tuition. Those numbers don’t include housing, living expenses, or textbooks.

With student loan debt topping \$1 billion, the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau says, “Student loans have eclipsed credit cards as the leading source of U.S. household debt outside of mortgages.” But there may be more available scholarship money than debt. College Board’s scholarship search alone claims to check “scholarships, other financial aid and internships from more than 2,200 programs, totaling nearly $6 billion.”

While many believe college will pay for itself later through higher salaries, there’s no reason to take on loans (and years of debt) before searching out as much free money as possible. In the video below, Money Talks News founder Stacy Johnson interviews Harvard grad Ben Kaplan, who won two dozen scholarships worth $90,000. Find out how he did it, and then read on to learn how you can too....

This is the kind of advice I could’ve used heading into college. I had a state scholarship that covered 75 percent of my tuition for four years. But it wasn’t until senior year I realized I could’ve had a full ride and saved myself thousands more. I just assumed I wasn’t eligible, but you know what they say about assumptions. Don’t make the same mistake. Follow these tips...

1. Check non-academic scholarships

As we already mentioned, there are literally billions of dollars in scholarships out there every year. As we covered in 25 Bizarre Scholarships, many don’t require great grades, test scores, or any kind of performance at all – there are scholarships based on everything from your height to a passion for the science behind wine.

Some of them have such weirdly specific criteria that you might win just by being the only person crazy enough to apply. For instance, there’s a scholarship for Catholics named Zolp. (Name changes won’t work.) So don’t sell yourself short when searching.

2. Use scholarship databases

There are many places to hunt for scholarships online. Try some of these:

- Scholarships.com
- CollegeBoard.org
- College-Scholarships.com
- College Answer
- QuestBridge
- Scholarship America
- FastWeb.com

Also check with the financial aid department of any school you might apply to. Several, like Harvard, have dedicated Web pages for scholarships available only to their students.

Wherever you look for scholarship money online, remember you shouldn't have to pay anything. Don't fall for scholarship application fees, matching services, or other fee-based services. Not all places that charge are rip-offs, but many are, and there's no need to take risks with so many free resources at your fingertips.

3. Check locally and offline

Online searches are a great tool, but your odds of winning nationally competitive scholarships might be lower than less-advertised local ones. Check with local businesses and community-oriented organizations in your area: Rotary clubs, YMCA, Kiwanis, and even churches. High-school and library bulletin boards and well-connected guidance counselors might also be able to clue you in.

4. Reuse your work

Apply for a few scholarships, and you'll start to see a pattern. Many want the same information, and essay scholarships may touch on the same themes (especially "tell us who you are and why you want our money").

While plagiarism is a no-no in college, you can't plagiarize yourself. Save time by keeping documents you can copy and paste from, and use your Web browser's autocomplete feature so you don't have to type in your contact info a billion times. Just make sure to double-check everything.

5. Be persistent

While there's a mind-boggling amount of free money out there, don't expect it to fall into your lap. Do the legwork and keep checking every semester. Some scholarships aren't available to freshmen or undecided majors, and new opportunities pop up all the time.

Fill out the Free Application for Federal Student Aid at the start of every year so your school knows you're still interested in grants and other financial aid. Do it early in the spring semester – need-based aid such as federal Pell grants is often first-come, first-served.

What To Do If You Can't Get Enough Financial Aid

Consider starting at a community college, which charges significantly less than a four-year university and lets you finish core courses before transferring to the school you really want. Just make sure your credits will carry over – ask the transfer schools for an articulation agreement.

You could also try applying to some of the cheapest schools in the country, or the tuition-free schools named in this BusinessWeek article. The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau's new comparison shopping tool might also help.

If you need more money, you'll probably have to turn to student loans. While their interest rates are relatively low compared to most other types (3.4 percent for subsidized undergraduate loans), it's still easy to rack up a mountain of debt. Check out Are Student Loans the Next Debt Crisis? 6 Ways to Stay Out of Trouble to learn how to minimize interest and seek loan forgiveness.

Measuring a College Grad's Salary Prospects

Jul 6, 2016 Lynn O'Shaughnessy | Wealth Management Magazine

This is the question that parents are increasingly asking schools as they contemplate bankrolling their children's college years: Will my child get a good-paying job after graduating from your school?

Pose this question to a college admissions representative, and you are likely to hear that nearly all the institution's recent graduates are employed.

But institutional evidence is flimsy at best. Schools typically base their employment statistics on surveys that they send out to new graduates. The percentage of graduates who fill out these surveys, however, is usually low.

And the alumni with jobs are more likely to complete these surveys, while those who moved back in with their parents and have no employment prospects are more likely to ignore them.

These surveys are also not likely to differentiate between those who have jobs that actually require a college degree and those that don't. Nor would it be in a school's interest to make a distinction between students who have a full-time job versus a part-time one.

With this focus on job prospects, there has been a growing interest within the U.S. Department of Education and outside groups to generate and share salary and job statistics for individual schools.

PayScale, the online salary information company, has been sharing salary data linked to individual schools through its annual PayScale College Salary Report. PayScale relies on individuals voluntarily sharing their wages if they want to use its salary comparison site, and the site uses this information when ranking schools by salary potential.

In addition, the federal government started releasing aggregate salary data for graduates at individual schools last year via its College Scorecard website. On the site, you can discover the median salaries of alumni 10 years after leaving their schools.

On this federal website, for instance, it says graduates at the University of Maryland earned a median salary of $59,100, while graduates from the University of Virginia earned $58,600. Grads at Johns Hopkins University earned a median salary of $69,200.

While the federal government could access actual salary figures for graduates, it has been hamstrung in what it can share. With intense lobbying primarily from private colleges and universities, Congress has repeatedly voted against making salary data available to consumers.

What the Department of Education was able to do on its own, however, was to release salary figures from graduates who either obtained federal grants, which are earmarked chiefly for lower-income students, and/or who borrowed through federal loans. The available data fails to cover the salaries of about half the graduates.

But a California-based nonprofit has recently stepped in to offer greater graduate salary information than any other source.

Educate to Career provides a more precise picture of the salaries that graduates at a particular school are earning. The site drills down and shares not only the salaries per academic major of last year's graduates, but also by occupations within those majors.

For example, recent economic majors at the University of Chicago made an average salary of $67,600. Of the jobs surveyed, alumni who became marketing and sales managers ($87,600) and financial managers ($84,500) earned the highest beginning salaries. Their earnings far outpaced the econ grads who became accountants or auditors ($63,400) and personal financial advisors ($65,500).

To find the academic major/occupation figures of a school, click on the Career Counselors link on the home page of Educate to Career, then click on the College and Major Outcomes link.

Educate to Career also created a college ranking system that measures the return on investment that attending a particular school provides its graduates. The site compares the cost of the school with the improvement in earnings and employment prospects that its graduates enjoy.

The site, which ranks 1,182 public and private schools, looks at such metrics as the percentage of grads employed in occupations that utilize their field of study, the average salary earned by recent grads and the typical number of years to graduate.

The schools that rose to the top of the ETC rankings include the University of North Carolina, University of California-Irvine, University of Virginia, College of William and Mary, The Citadel, University of Michigan and University of Florida. The private schools near the top include Bob Jones University \(12\), Berea College (14), St. John's University in Minnesota (18), Brigham Young University (21), College of St. Benedict (24) and St. Vincent College in Pennsylvania (25).

The data powerhouse behind ETC's figures is Job Search Intelligence, which is a leading provider of educational attainment and career outcomes. Among the California firm's clients are more than 5,000 employers and more than half of Fortune 500 companies. The firm uses dozens of data points in generating its salary figures from such sources as the U.S. Census Bureau, Bureau of Labor Statistics and National Center for Education Statistics
